CENTRALIAN

Southwestern Central School
Lakewood, New York

Dedicated with respect

THE Senior Class of 1952 proudly and gratefully dedicates this, the fifth edition of the Centralian, to Mr. Lee R. Mathewson.

Mr. Mathewson, who was granted his Masters Degree in Education from Columbia University, became principal of Lakewood High School over thirty years ago. During that time he did a tremendous amount of work helping to make Lakewood High School a better educational system for the youth of this community.

Now, as Supervising Principal for Administration, he has guided Southwestern Central to a higher scholastic standing and a more united organization.

It is with regret that we announce this year is the last of Mr. Mathewson's many years of association with our school system.

His continued and sincere efforts will long be remembered by all who have studied and worked with him through the years.

and affection

To our Students—of all grades—past, present, and future:

As I complete over thirty years of teaching among you I go to other fields of endeavor with mingled feelings of pleasure and regret. I feel a pleasant glow as I contemplate that I may have had some small part in your successes, but regret that I shall not be in your midst to bid you God speed in your future endeavors.

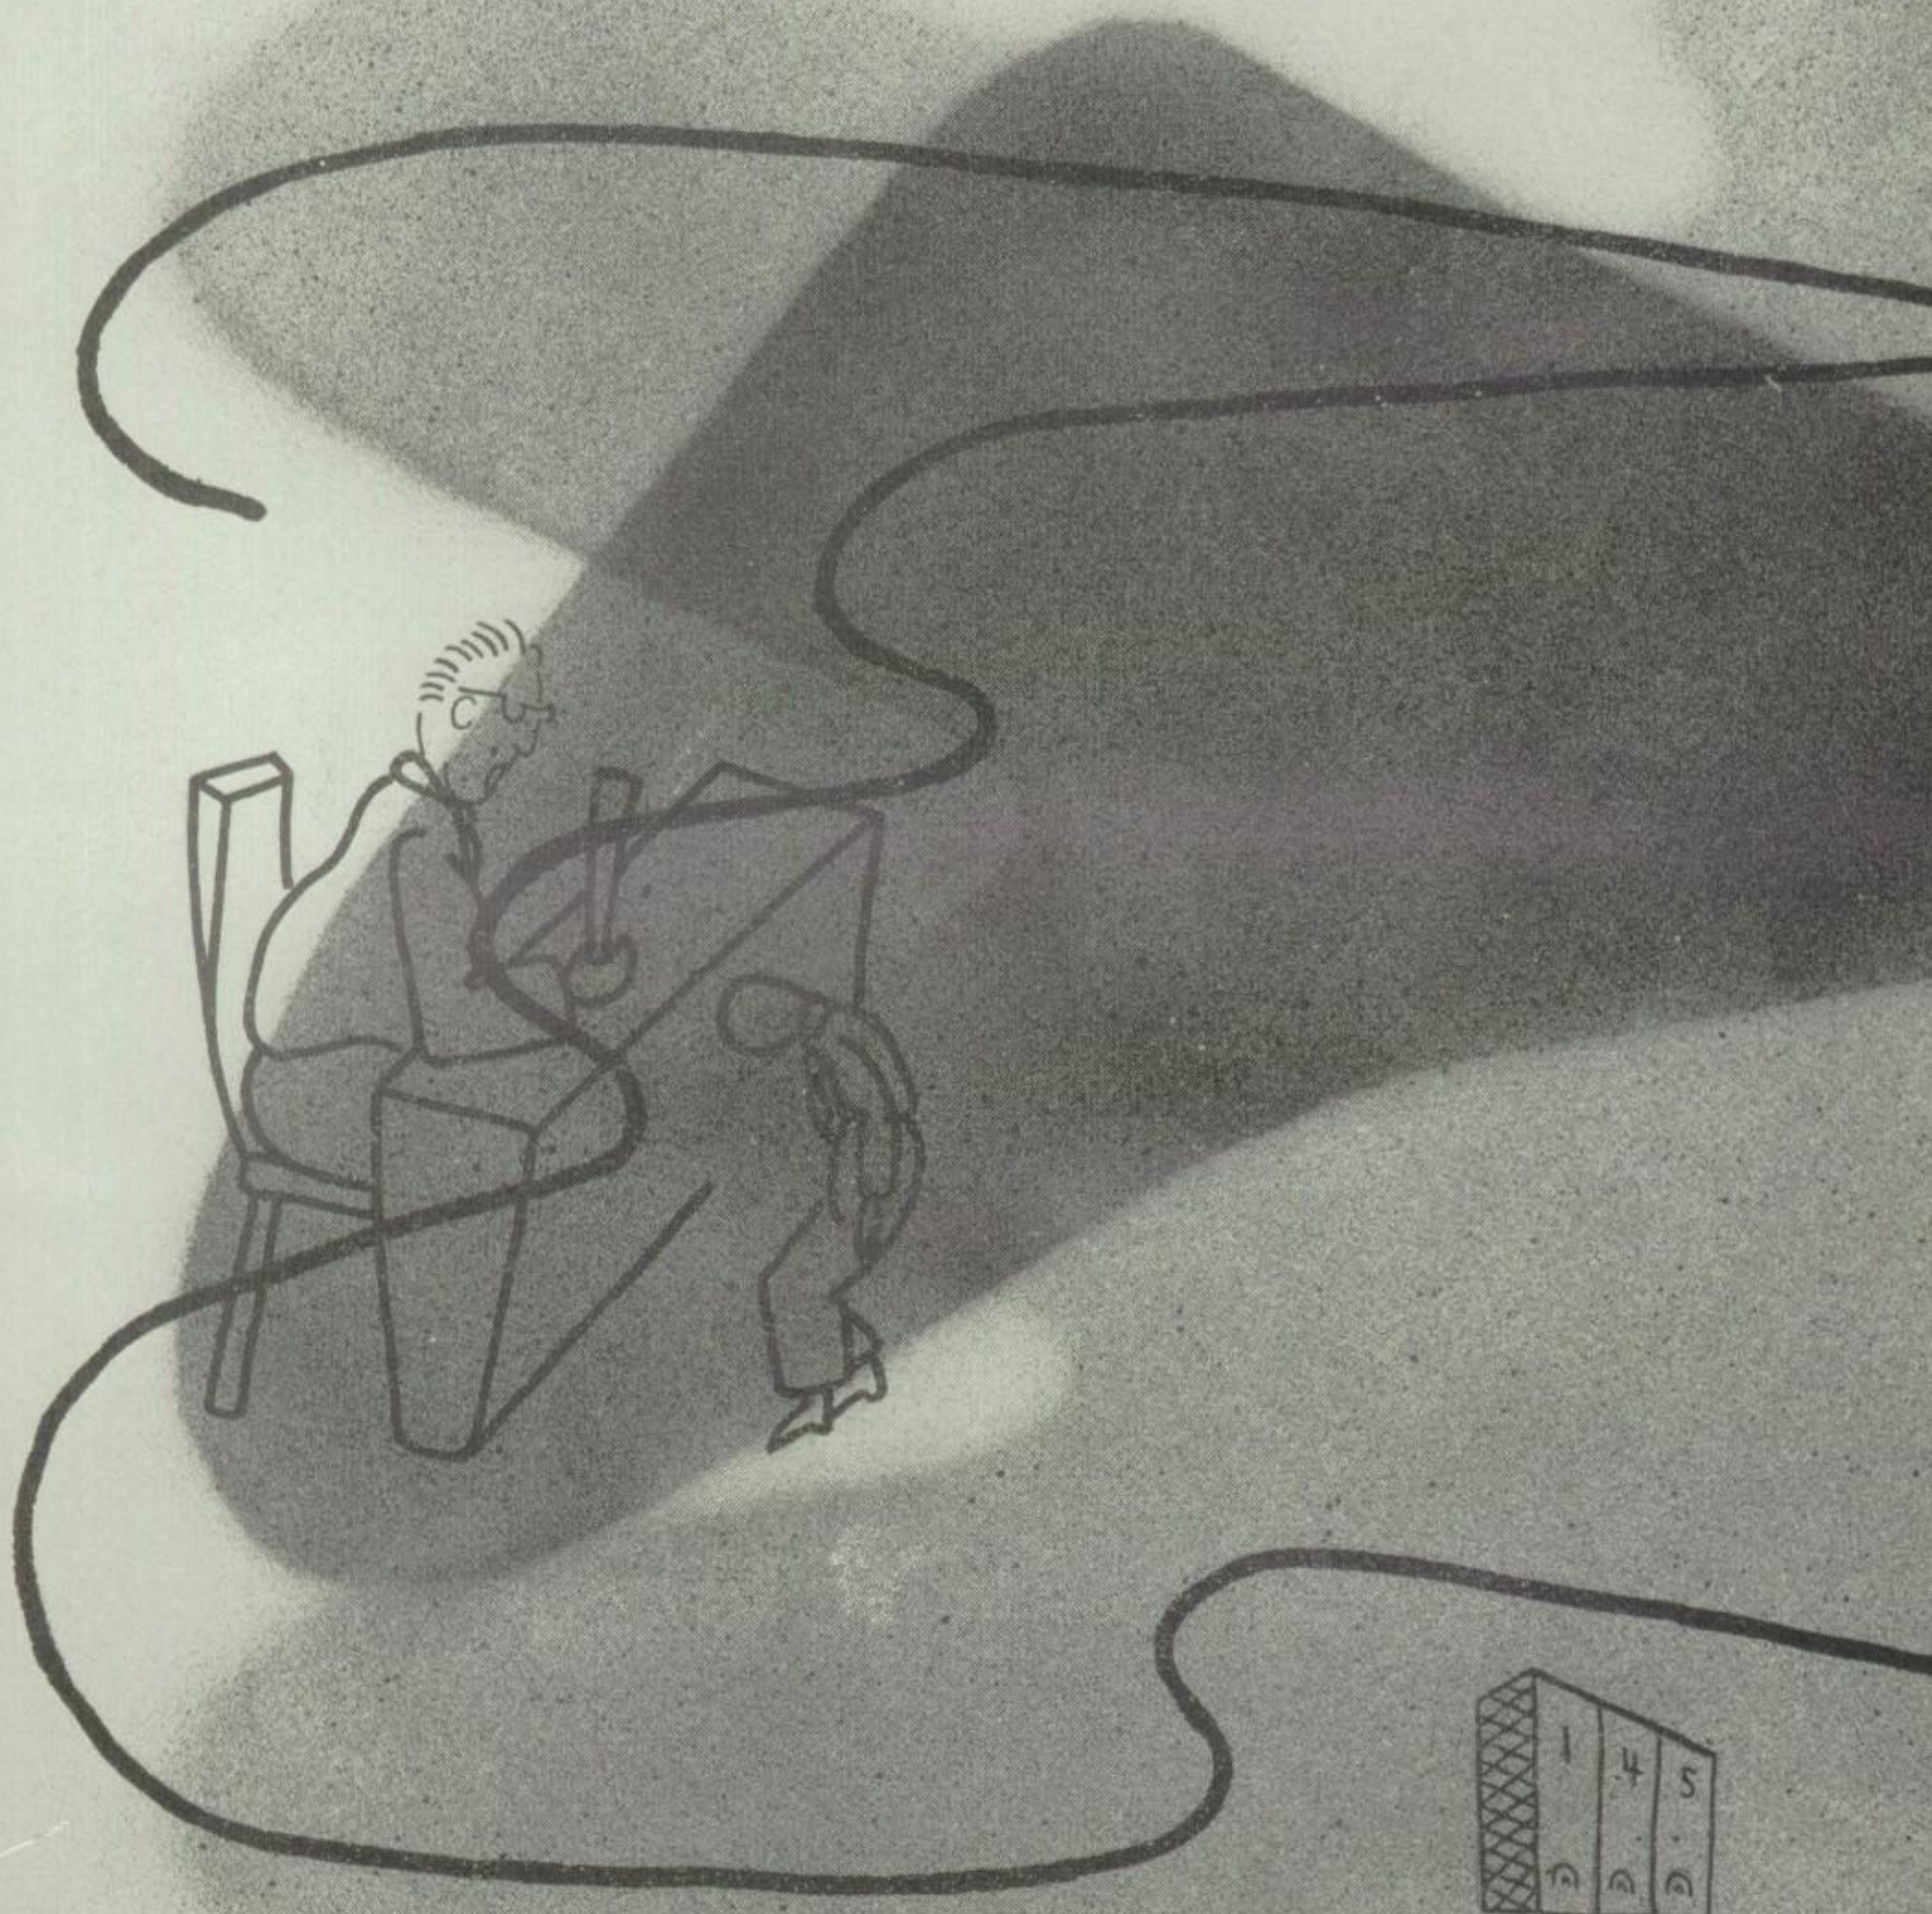

Will you try to live up to your best in that future which lies before you? Your parents and former teachers will then feel repaid for the confidence they have placed in you. Over two generations of young people in this area have led me to expect the best from Lakewood and all of Southwestern.

My future home will be in the Shenandoah Valley of Virginia and Mrs. Mathewson joins me in saying the "latch string will always be out."

Sincerely,

Lee R. Mathewson

BOARD OF EDUCATION

Answers Yes to the ?

Shall Southwestern Have

THE ambitious building program undertaken by the public spirited citizens who make up the Southwestern Central School Board of Education has been a tremendous project for all those concerned. The board's nine members, with the aid of their clerk and the school's principals, have laid the groundwork for what may well be one of the finest central school systems in southwestern New York State.

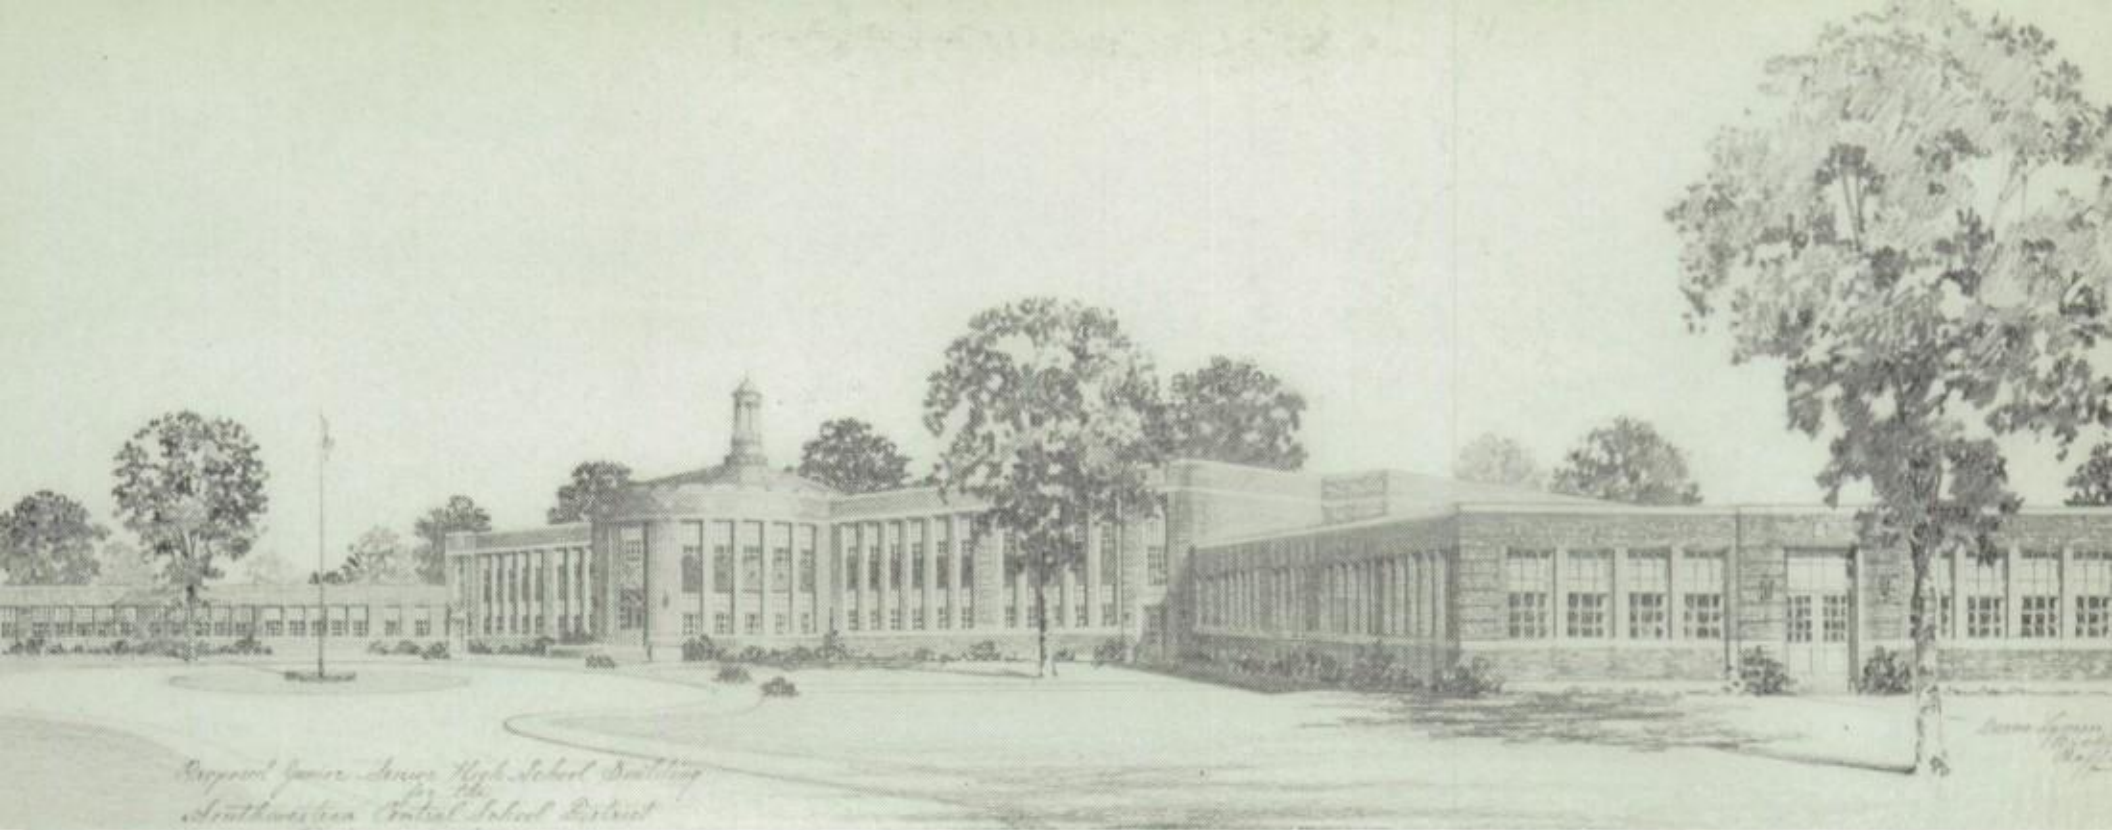

The board has been untiring in its efforts to secure the best possible facilities for the education of the students of the school, and to promote a stronger bond of understanding among the various districts which make up the Southwestern system.

Mrs. Mary Stranigan heads the board as its president, a position she held three years ago as well. Lorin Warlow is vice president. Mrs. Margaret Farnsworth is clerk and Mrs. Florence Gotts continues as treasurer. Other members are Harvey Carlson, Walter Davis, Jr., Harold Fosberg, Verne Johnson, James Kearney, Dr. E. W. Pilkey and Kenneth Sonne.

Each board member serves on one or more committees, each of which is vital in carrying out the work necessary to maintain a modern school whose problems multiply year after year as the business of school administration increases in proportion.

Seated: Mr. Sonne, Mr. Carlson, Mrs. Stranigan, Dr. Pilkey, Mrs. Farnsworth, clerk.
Standing: Mr. Warlow, Mr. Kearney, Mr. Davis, Mr. Johnson.

Better Schools

WHEN our school was centralized five years ago, the question of a new high school building immediately arose. Many citizens realized the urgent need for new school to accommodate the rapidly increasing number of pupils in the Southwestern School district.

Many poor conditions were in existence in the established schools. Overcrowded classrooms, classes held in a garage and in over-age buildings, overtaxed cafeterias and limited activities in other departments were hampering the education of the students.

In order to allow a larger choice of subjects in the high school an inconvenient exchange of classes between the two high schools each day was necessary.

A Fact Finding Committee appointed by the P. T. A. in both Celoron and Lakewood studied various possibilities and made four proposals, one of which was accepted by the Board of Education. The board compiled and distributed brochures, with the aid of the members of the P. T. A., publicizing facts concerning the proposed building program.

Duane Lyman and Associates were hired in the spring of 1951 to draw up blue prints of the school and estimate the cost before the voting. The estimate for the completed project was $2,250,000 of which the state would pay $958,000. The cost of a site was not included in the estimate as an excellent one had already been donated through the generosity of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lawson. The location of this site is in a central section of the district near the conjunction of the Hunt and Townline Roads.

Before the date of voting numerous meetings were held for the debating of the issue. Then on January 26, 1952, ballots were cast and counted. The issue was carried by a small margin. Definite plans can now be made and it is estimated that the school will be ready for occupancy by September, 1954.

Hail, and Farewell

ALLENE GRAHAM came to Southwestern with a fine background of grade teaching experience. She taught in many rural schools throughout the county, remaining in Levant district 15 years just previous to coming to our school. In all, Mrs. Graham has given forty years of service to the youth of this area.

Mrs. Graham attended Jamestown High School and Mayville Teacher Training Class and holds a Sub-Academic Certificate which entitles her to teach in grades of any system maintaining a high school department.

She furthered her education by spending eleven summers at Fredonia State Teachers College and attending four extension courses.

Mrs. Graham has been active in P.T.A. work and holds a Life Membership in this organization presented by Busti No. 7 school.

Music, writing to "pen friends," calling on the sick, family picnics and Canasta seem to be Mrs. Graham's hobbies, although she takes an active interest in civic organizations and all current events as well.

As for her future plans, Mrs. Graham intends to remain in her home in Busti for the present.

WALTER A. MILLER was born and raised on a farm in western Ohio, and began his teaching career in the country schools of that state. He organized the first high schools in Buckland and Ney, Ohio, and was superintendent of schools for thirty-three years.

Mr. Miller finished fifty years of service to the youth of this country with ten years as head of the science department in the Celoron branch of S.W.C.S.

Mr. Miller's educational training was received in varied collegiate centers including Western Ohio Normal School, Lima College, Tri-State College, Miami University, Wittenburg College, and summer sessions at Chautauqua, New York, and M.I.T. at Cambridge, Massachusetts where he studied on a Westinghouse Fellowship.

Mr. Miller's hobbies include wood-working, gardening, and memorizing poetry.

During his first forty-five years of teaching, Mr. Miller maintained the enviable record of perfect attendance except for one day and a half absence.

THE annual nation-wide oratorical contest sponsored by the American Legion had as local contestants this year Bonnie McCann and Alfred Parker, Celoron Juniors.

Contestants present orations on some phase of the Constitution; the purpose of the contest being to arouse an interest in the Constitution among the students of America's schools.

Bonnie McCann chose as her topic, "Safeguarding Our Democracy." Alfred Parker spoke on "Our Country's Destiny."

The local contest sponsored by the Herman Kent Post of the American Legion was held during an assembly in the Celoron school.

Judges were Miss Pauline Lopus, a social studies teacher, chairman, with Reverend George Munger of the Busti Federated Church, and Mr. Irving Miller, another social studies teacher in high school.

The local legion post presented each of the contestants with a fountain pen.

Robert Illingworth, post adjutant, was in charge of contest in Celoron and West Ellicott.

Parker, whose oration was chosen as winner by the judges, was later defeated in the county finals at Cossadaga Valley Central School.

Mrs. Madeline Swanson, clerk at the Lakewood Branch is pleasant, efficient and possesses a rare sense of humor. In addition to her many duties at school she manages a home and cares for her daughter, Sandra, who is in second grade at Lakewood.

Mrs. Swanson is a graduate of Bryant and Stratton Business College.

Enter to Learn — Go Forth to Serve

ONE September morning thirteen years ago the members of the class of '52 started where all good classes start—in the kindergarten. Some of the members attended what is now the Celoron branch, and some the Lakewood branch, each blissfully unaware that the other existed, and certainly never anticipating that thirteen short years from then they would be graduating together from a high school known as Southwestern Central.

Some came to kindergarten noisily, some cautiously, and some tearfully. It was a great new adventure. Something that we had anticipated with mingled curiosity and dread soon became a daily reality: we were going to school.

Grade school days were fraught with new experiences, but all paled into oblivion when at last we were ready for junior high, and could at last take our places among that elite who could travel from room to room each period of the day. Freshman year brought an opportunity for each to decide the future course of his life to a great extent by choosing the field of study which best suited his needs.

The junior year held the thrill of class rings and proms and the knowledge that we were almost at the end of our careers as high school students.

Seniors! At last the magic time had come when we could take our places as THE upper classmen of our school. Now for the first time the two branches really began to feel that they belonged together. All the friendships gained in the field of sports, chorus, band, and other activities which were combined aided in forming the lasting friendships which our senior year cemented. The Senior play, containing for the second year the members of both branches, highlighted our fall activities. During the fall and winter months those of us who were on teams or cheerleading squads played our last games of high school football and basketball. Spring brought out other teams to take their last fling at glory; and the wonderful prom.

By now our honor students had been chosen and the final pattern of our graduating year had begun to take shape. Class Night, with its alternately serious and comical moments came late in May.

June also brought the final copies of the Troy Tribune and the Crystal, and Senior Day with its fun and frolic. It brought final tests and big cases of the jitters, but finally it brought caps and gowns and diplomas and sad farewells to things as we had grown accustomed to know them.

And now, as we entered, so we leave; some noisily, some cautiously, and some tearfully. It is a great new adventure. Something we have anticipated with mingled curiosity and dread has again become a daily reality. We are leaving school!

No, You're Not Seeing Double

INSPIRED by the success of the first combined Senior Class play presented in 1951, a record number of aspiring actors and actresses answered the try-out call for 1952. The record turnout suggested a double cast. Almost all parts were double cast, one group performing for Thursday night's audience and the other for Friday night's.

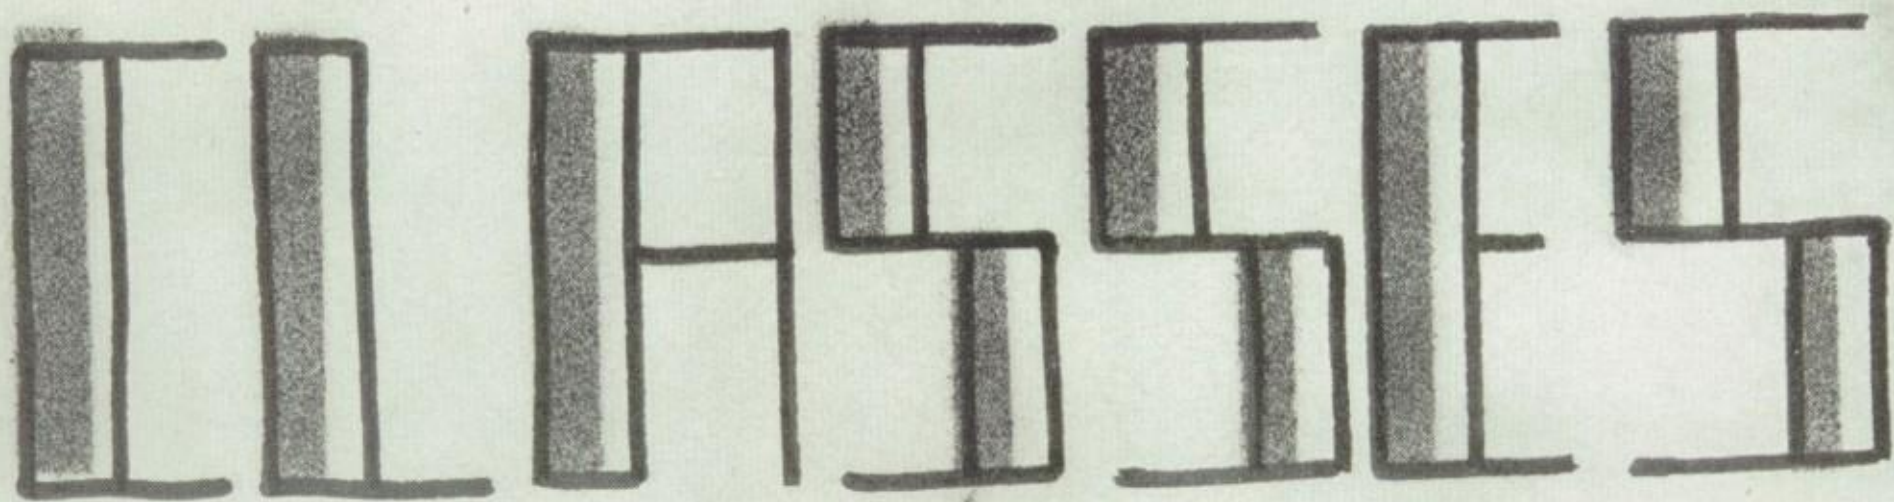

The choice of the play reading committee, made up of three Seniors from each branch school, was another rollicking, big-family comedy, "Meet Me In St. Louis."

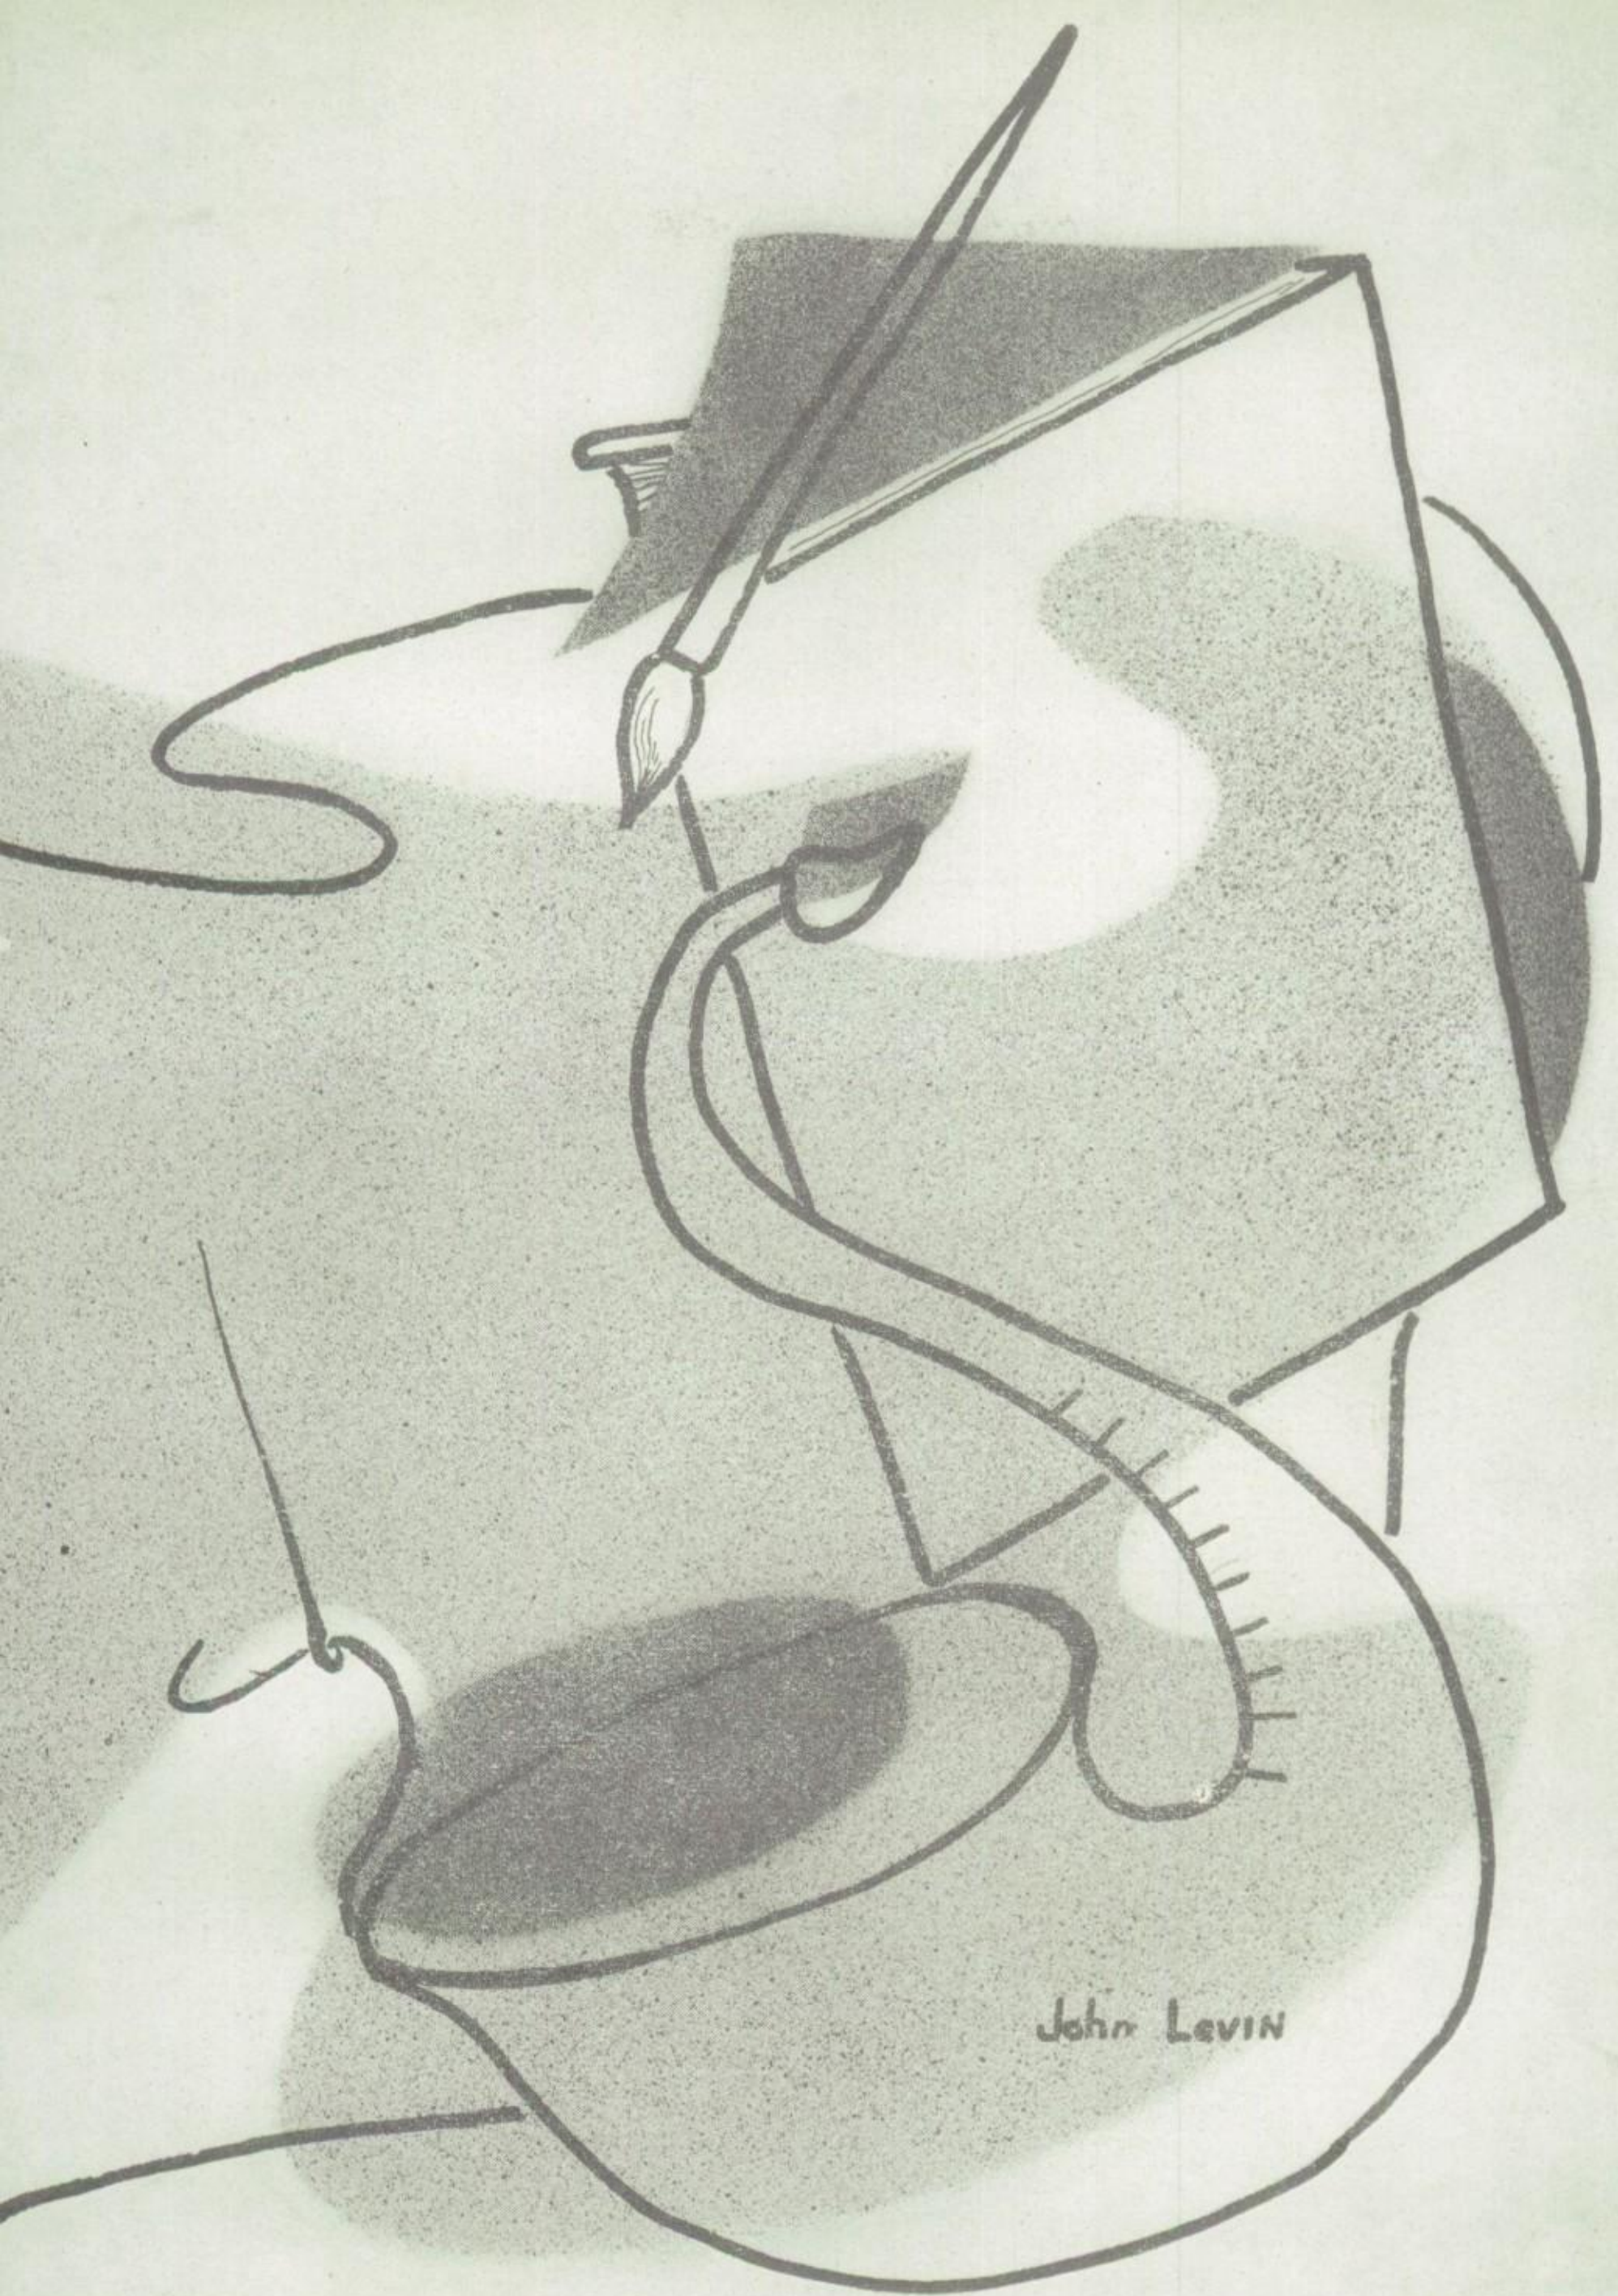

Staged in the period of the famous St. Louis World's Fair, "the greatest show that ever showed," this play again presented a nostalgic glimpse into the yesterdays.

A more wild and woolly family than the Smith's would be hard to imagine: especially as they definitely lived in the era of razor straps and woodsheds and Papa's-word-is-law. Anything might be expected—from water bombs to a derailed trolley—to biting father's boss (but always with the best intentions)!

To help maintain the Fair theme, which was indelibly woven into the plot of the entire play, vocal soloists, an ensemble group, and dancers costumed in the same period, entertained between the acts, with introductions by a typical Gay Nineties' master of ceremonies.

The play was, for the second year, under the expert direction of Miss Pauline Lopus.

Juniors display scholarship,

Popular Dick Wigley took the gavel as president with Pauline Evinczik as vice president. Capable Patricia Fagan acted as secretary, ably supported by Paul Evinczik, treasurer. Mrs. Jones and Mr. Windoft acted as class advisers. As the Juniors were entitled to two Student Council members they selected Ruth Callison and Bert Crocker, to represent them. On the Centralian staff the Junior members were Virginia Schuyler and Raymond Warner. In the field of sports Mary Lou Moore had charge of the girls' activities and Tom Swearingen appropriately looked after the boys. The Junior class reporter was Jerry Scorse.

On February 2, the Seniors' Winter Show Carnival honoring the Juniors of both branch schools was the big social event in the eyes of all the Junior class.

Our class has been well represented on the football, basketball, volleyball and baseball teams and have a good background for next year's vital encounters in these fields.

Credit also goes to the girls of the class for their good work in inter-class sports, especially basketball, where they won top honors for the second year.

The big event for the month of March was the annual Junior Play, this year, "We Shook the Family Tree," with hilarious consequences. The play was a hit due to the capable directing of Mr. John Ruane and the co-operation of the students.

In June the Juniors joined forces to honor the Seniors in the not soon to be forgotten Prom held in the Celoron gym. It will seem strange at first to be going into the Senior homeroom, but it won't take long for us to realize that THE YEAR is here at last and we're SENIORS!

Versatility, and talent.

ON THE eve of March 13th a nervous group of Thespians took one last look at their lines as the anxiously awaited moment drew near. Then it was there, in all its glamour . . . curtain time, and the performance began. An hour and a half and a million laughs later, the curtain descended. The thunderous applause which greeted the finish of this Junior Play, '52 version, had but one interpretation, "We Shook the Family Tree" was a hit! Yes, John Ruane's dream had become a reality, his faith in a seemingly hopeless undertaking had been vindicated. Under his masterful direction, the cast had learned in a few short days the minute details that go hand in hand with good acting. That the audience had appreciated their efforts was indeed evident. So, also, and to a much greater degree, did those participating value his.

"Those participating" included: Hildegard, Kathleen Danielson; Freddie, Richard Wigley; Bob, Roger Linquist; Sally, Janice Offhaus; Mrs. Dolson, Barbara Puls; Mr. Dolson, Peter Rushworth; Mrs. Shermer, Kathryn Reynolds; Mr. Shermer, Jack Penhollow; Paige, Nancy Anderson; Jimmy, Jerry Scorse; Ellie May, May Lou Moore; Jill, Judy Garrison.

It seems as though this list should go on forever, for gratitude is eternal to each and every one who helped to make the play a success. In concluding, then, the Junior Class of the Lakewood branch takes time to say, to all those unsung heroes, "Thank you from the bottom of our hearts."

Prom plans, class rings

AS THE members of the class of '53 entered school last fall they were greeted by their new class sponsor, Mr. Walter Miller and delighted to find both old friends and new gathered in room 201.

Very early in the first semester an election was held and Alfred Parker discovered that he was again given his old job as president. Ever efficient Anne Lamberson was chosen to assist him with his presidential duties, and Joan Johnson and Theil Eklund attended them as secretary and treasurer respectfully.

Grace Peterson and Jack Bailey were selected as Junior representatives to the Student Council, never dreaming, of course, that they would turn into seasoned public speakers before the year was over. Joyce LaQuay and Joyce Anderson were sent down the hall to take their place on the Centralian staff.

October was chosen as the time for the traditional Junior Penny Supper, and with the valuable help of Mr. Miller and various mothers of the class it was a successful venture.

February saw the Juniors entertained by the Seniors at a clever Winter Snow Carnival at Lakewood. This is a sort of "thank-you" in advance for the spring Prom which the Seniors know the Juniors will produce in their honor.

During March the flurry of excitement accompanying the arrival annually of class rings sent all the Juniors scurrying to their piggy-banks.

Interest the Juniors

NO ONE who has not been a junior knows what he has missed when it comes to giving a prom; when it comes to selecting a band, selecting a theme for decorations, selecting a patron list, selecting a color scheme, selecting refreshments, selecting a clean-up squad! Oh, yes, he never knows unless he has found himself in the midst of the endless yards of crepe paper, the endless piles of chairs and imitation grass, the imitation fencing and imitation flowers which go to make up the properties which go to make up the background which creates the illusion the committee desires to carry out the theme they selected in the first place!

But then, anyone who has never been a junior has no idea what he has missed in missing the fun and excitement and thrills which are part and parcel of the preparations for a prom. One reason why it may be fun and excitement may be that the juniors know that next year they will be seniors, and then somebody else will be juniors and have to go through it all again in their honor . . . but most of all it is fun and thrilling just because there is never anything quite like a Junior-Senior Prom.

No, there is never anything quite like a Junior-Senior Prom when every girl's dream of formals and corsages and gallant escorts comes true. It is then that every boy catches an exciting glimpse of the girl he escorts as a starry-eyed princess, in spite of the fact that she is, without doubt, the same girl who scuffed her saddle shoes and popped her chewing gum beside him at yesterday's baseball game. It is then that every girl suddenly sees her escort through the gossamer woven of shaded lights and muted music, floating tulle and the perfume of his flowers. It matters little, then, to her, that a few short months ago he might have plowed, muddy and disheveled across a football field in pursuit of an equally muddy football. For one breathless evening he is Prince Charming, and being so makes her Cinderella at the ball.

Yes, there will be other dances in other years to come, but never another prom like the prom the juniors gave the seniors the year YOU graduated. That is why every year the big event of the junior year is the preparation of the best prom they can devise. The work and the bother and the time consumed are always worth the BEST the juniors can put into it, for after all it is the BEST way juniors know to say farewell to BEST senior class they have ever known.

Adopt Upper Class Airs

THE 1952 sophomore class has had a very pleasing and successful year. Our very capable officers, voted for at the beginning of the year because of their interest in school activities, are: Jere Mead, president; Sherwood Vincent, vice president; Joan Otten, secretary, and Marjorie Starkweather, treasurer. Elaine Anderson was appointed reporter and Joann Parker and Frank Mallare represented the sophs on the Student Council.

The class members actively participated in various organizations in the school. They gained experience in chorus, band and in dramatics. Those interested in these organizations were able to attend the annual gatherings of their respective groups at Fredonia for the annual meetings of regional schools. The Mi-Y also provided an exceptional opportunity for the feminine members of the group to get together.

The class, by custom, decorated the auditorium for the baccalaureate services held for the senior class at graduation time. This provided the sophomores with an opportunity to work together on a project new and interesting to them as it gave them an active part in the graduation plans of the school for the first time.

The sophomores wish to express their sincere thanks to their sponsors, Mr. Miller, Miss Jones, and Mrs. Watson, who have been very generous with their time to aid the class with its activities.

With an Eye to the Future

ON OCTOBER 18, 1951, the Freshman class of the Celoron branch held its first meeting and elected class officers for the year. James Miller, quiet and efficient, was given the job of presiding over the meetings with John Ford as his assistant. Methodical Marlene Paquin was elected as secretary, and Cynthia Carlson was asked to fill the exacting position of treasurer.

As the ninth grade is entitled to only one member on the Student Council, Dale Newark was selected to represent them. Dale has been active on the panel discussions presented by the Council throughout the year.

Finding themselves in high school in earnest, with graduation only three short years away, the group discovered there was not too much time to give to class activities. More strenuous schedules, plus membership in band, chorus, dramatic clubs, sports, sororities and fraternities took up so much time that it was late in the year before any money making projects were undertaken. A bake goods sale was held at the April meeting of the P.T.A., adding a goodly sum to the class treasury.

The advisers, Mrs. Chase and Miss Tack, have helped the Freshmen through a difficult year on their road toward graduation by their patience and co-operation.

On toward our goal

LAKEWOOD Freshmen had a very exciting and busy year, thanks to the enthusiasm of the class members and the good-natured assistance of Mrs. Rockman and Mr. Weiss.

The highlight for November was the Freshman Square Dance with all committees working their hardest to make this a success both socially and financially. A candy and pop sale helped fill the treasury.

The Christmas party for Junior High students was an enjoyable introduction for the vacation and the Leap Year party in February was hilarious for all who planned and attended it. The Spring affairs made us realize with regret that we were leaving this part of our school life to go on to the Senior High School.

Our officers for the year included: Walter Carlson, president for the third year, with Duane Peterson on hand as vice president to give Wally support. Efficient Marcia Milton served as secretary and Diane Anderson had charge of collecting and disbursing the money. Barbara Hitchcock and Peter Peterson expressed our views in Student Council and Sally Parsons and Leland Sperry helped produce the Centralian.

Fun, study, and sports

THE class of '54 has once again sailed through a first rate year. Unanimously re-elected in the October class meeting, was our jovial president, Joe Boardman, who organized suggestions for our annual class party held this spring, and also led discussions concerning the Sophomore Assembly, and our sole money making endeavor a bake sale.

In the sports picture the Sophomore spotlight is focused on what we think is some pretty wonderful contributions to the football and J. V. basketball teams. It's been heard from some reliable sources that the J. V. basketball and J. V. cheerleaders are just the material for the places the seniors are vacating.

This class can be proud of the enthusiastic way they have undertaken senior high school life. If a good beginning makes a good ending, they should be an outstanding Senior class—come 1954.

Confident and determined after

BECAUSE of the scarcity of homerooms available during activity period the two eighth grades combined to make only one eighth grade club in Celoron this year. Meeting every other Thursday in room 202, the club has been under the direction of Mrs. Dennison and Mr. Munson.

Officers selected were Wayne Anderson, president; Jim Peters, vice-president; Deanna Squier, secretary; and Larry Allen, treasurer.

Sally Gross represented the group on the Student Council and represented the grade very satisfactorily on the panel discussions given throughout the year.

Like the seventh grades, the eighth celebrated Christmas with Jim O'Hara as Santa, and Valentine's Day with suitable activities.

Perhaps the greatest activity of the class has been the formation of the Eighth Grade Dance Club.

From the enthusiasm with which it has met in this club and its other activities it looks from here as though the class will have one of the most enjoyable high school careers of any class in many a moon.

Learning rules 'n regulations

IN SEPTEMBER the Celoron seventh graders, eagerly looking forward to their first year of junior high school collected in rooms 5 and 8 to be under the watchful eyes of Mrs. Deuink and Miss Lopus, their home room teachers.

The newest members of the high school selected class officers early in the year and held meetings about every two weeks.

Parties were enjoyed by both groups at Christmas and Valentine's Day.

Miss Lopus's 7A group had as officers: President, Suzanne Johnson, and Vice President, Andrew Scalise. Margaret Logan was secretary, Patricia McKoon, treasurer and Arthur Elmeer, Centralian representative. A number of students took turns reporting the class news to the Crystal.

In Mrs. Deuink's 7B grade Ruth Ostrom was elected president with James Ellison as vice-president. Shirley Saulsgiver and Richard Howgard were secretary and treasurer; Dick was also Centralian Staff representative. Donya Warner was elected to represent both grades on the Student Council.

The seventh grade again had the Buffalo Evening News spelling contest winner this year. Ruth Ostrom, who placed high among last year's contestants, won easily this year over a field of contestants from grades five through eight.

First row: Mrs. M. Dennison, J. Steer, M. Scalise, J. Klomp, W. Williams, G. Cady, R. Hanson, W. Swanson, C. Berg, D. Squire, J. Peters, W. Anderson, L. Allen, L. Newark, K. Bird, S. Hulings, C. Estus, Mr. Munson.

Well adapted,

THE Teen Age Clockwatchers of Lakewood Branch (otherwise known as the eighth grade) have been busier than the proverbial bee this past year.

The eighth grade assembly was given during Book Week. This was in the form of a quiz program with the participants guessing the names of famous historical characters.

The Junior High Christmas party ended the year 1951. The new year brought us a new arrival, Annabelle Hausler entered school January 2, 1952.

On January 25 we had a marionette show, "The Circus" on which we realized a handsome profit.

Nels Carlson and Norma Davis continued our winning streak this year by becoming the winners of the Centralian contest from the eighth grade. We are very proud of them.

The eighth grade teamed up with the seventh graders to put on an operetta "Mutiny on the Mary Anne" during May. It was directed by Mrs. Nelson, our music instructor. We appreciated her enthusiasm and encouragement very much.

New Citizens of Junior High

IN SEPTEMBER seventy-two children came into Junior High School for the first time, hurrying, worrying and bewildered among the older students. But not for long—we soon became accustomed to changing classes and carrying our books and were now citizens of this group.

The Junior High parties, Dance Club and intramural games made the year interesting for all of us. The Chorus gave an operetta "Mutiny on the Mary Ann," which Mrs. Nelson directed. For our assembly program we gave two pantomimes: "Too Short on One End" and "Fair and Warmer."

For our officers we chose Ronald Burstrom as president, Jerry Ruby as vice president, Marilyn Peterson as treasurer and Sarah Farnsworth as secretary. Mary Ellen Carlson and Ernest Schuyler were our Student Council representatives and Anne Johnson and Gene Nelson were our Centralian workers.

Our new members for this year included Sandra Lanphere, Brenda Rightmyer, Judy North, Sylvia Halin, Richard Starr and Edward Knoefle. We have found them to be good students and interesting friends.

1951 Sectional Champions

THE 1951 track team of Southwestern is perhaps the best that has ever emerged from the combined Lakewood-Celoron schools.

We started out on the victory trail by trouncing Falconer by a forty-point margin. Tom Naughton and Jack Hunt both scored double victories, Naughton in the 100 and 220, and Hunt in the shotput and discus.

The next week in a triangular meet with Fredonia and Falconer, Southwestern again emerged victorious, this time by a margin of 12½ points. This meet was eventful for the Troymen in view of the fact that two school records were broken. Jack Wigley broke the former 20 ft. 5 in. broad jump mark with a leap of 21 ft. 1½ in., and our outstanding relay team consisting of Bill Brown, Tom Naughton, Jack Wigley went the distance in 1:36.3, besting the old mark by 1.7 seconds.

In the Southwestern Conference meet, Southwestern bested a seven team field. Naughton, Brown, Carlson, Wigley, and the relay team all racked up first places. Jack Wigley broke his record of a week before in the broad jump when he flew through the air for a distance of 22 ft. 2 in. The rest of the scoring was done by Penhollow in the 100, Denn in the 440, Christy in the 440, Ellsworth in the mile, Denn in the broad jump, Hunt in the shotput, and Patton in the pole vault.

Good Sports of the Diamond

SOUTHWESTERN showed its prowess in baseball during the 1951 season by compiling a creditable record of six wins to 2 losses. Under the coaching of Mr. Harp the team showed fine spirit and proved the talent of underclassmen who would take over the varsity positions for 1952.

Three of the most valuable players of which the team boasted were seniors and thus played their final high school games during the 1951 season. Tommy Naughton, shortstop par excellence, and Dave Stark and Dick Patton, enviable first basemen will long be missed not only for their ability, but their good sportsmanship.

Coach Harp resigned his duties as varsity baseball mentor with the closing of the 1951 season with the congratulations of both team and spectators ringing in his ears.

The 1952 season opened with Mr. Shevalier as diamond coach and bids fair to be another outstanding year for the Trojans. Jack Wigley stepped neatly into the shoes vacated by last season's star, Tom Naughton, as shortstop, and promises to rival Naughton in every way. Rog. MacTavish is repeating his outstanding work as catcher for the second year. Len Ericzon is again doing excellent work as third baseman. This will be the last season for both Wigley and Ericzon, but with their fine example, and the example of the stars of other years and the coaching of Mr. Shevalier, who knows what may be accomplished by next year's team?

First row: J. Mead, J. McGrath, J. Larson, P. Truver, D. Travers, J. Olson, G. Clark, G. Denn, J. Wigley, J. Hunt, A. Desnerck, R. Williams, J. Olsen, B. Moran, J. McMaster, J. Mack, S. Gerace, J. Scorse, A. Whiteman.

Undefeated Heroes

THE first bright days of September, 1951, again heralded the approach of a busy season in football conscious Southwestern.

SEPTEMBER 22: The initial game showed the green and inexperienced Trojans a little shaky, but the Trojan horse must have had a little streak of Irish luck in its greenness for it rode over Salamanca 12-0.

OCTOBER 5: The luck of the Trojans was stretched a little thinner. This was a rough and hard fought game with Southwestern leading up to the last few minutes when a long Fredonia run tied the score at lucky (?)—unlucky (?) 13-13.

OCTOBER 12: Columbus Day may have been a national holiday but the Trojans had something more exciting to celebrate than the discovery of a little place like America. They were too busy holding the giant-killing Gowanda team scoreless and offensively rolling up a 21-0 score.

OCTOBER 20: Southwestern completely outmanned the youthful Jamestown J. V.'s therefore giving the second and third teams plenty of action. Goose-eggs seemed to be the popular fruit of our opponents again this trip, and the score was chalked up 13-0.

Southwestern vs. Westfield at Westfield.

of Southwestern Conference

OCTOBER 26: A determined scarlet and blue Trojan horde faced Falconer, arch rival of many a season. This was literally the championship game. The Trojan steed got off to a slow start but once it had found its stride, it was off to the races, galloping in to the tune of 20-7.

NOVEMBER 3: Thanksgiving was doubly observed at Southwestern this year. Even though it did not occur until November 22, the men of Troy and their loyal supporters were still celebrating the capture of the Southwestern Conference Title in spite of an early winter snow storm which deposited approximately three inches of snow on the field. The fact that the Wolverines were an easy match did not detract from the 19-6 score, for Southwestern had battled every inch of the way to the final game and may have found this last opponent easy prey only because they tangled with a great deal of tough material all season.

Cheered on by Their Pep.

THE 1951-52 football campaign brought out nine peppy and spirited cheerleaders ready to urge our champions on to another undefeated season. Six veterans, consisting of Captain Diane Carlson, Donna Swearingen, Mary Anne Hendler, Joyce Spence, Cay Patton and Diane Christy guided the new and eager members, Ann Burstrom, Joan Johnson and Audrey Warner.

Several pep rallies were held at both Lakewood and Celoron. The highlight of the cheerleaders' season was the snake dance held before the unforgettable win over Falconer.

D. Christy, A. Burstrom, M. A. Hendler, C. Patton, J. Spence, D. Swearingen, A. Warner, J. Johnson, D. Carlson.

The Squad

JACK McMASTER . . . "Big Mac" was mighty tough for opposing ballcarriers to get around.

JIM OLSEN . . . All-Star, big tackle really deserved it.

PAUL EVINCZIK . . . Although the smallest regular, "Louie" did a big job holding up the center of the line.

JOHN WELSHOFER . . . good on defense and held his own against usually heavier adversaries.

BILL MORAN . . . "Big Moose" played most of the game in the other team's backfield, All-Star.

RAY WARNER . . . center and linebacker, hit opposing ballcarriers like a 2-ton truck.

JOHN OLSEN . . . received much punishment in reward for his hard playing.

DICK WIDLEY . . . glue fingers for catching passes, gained much yardage on reverses.

RAE WILLIAMS . . . underrated halfback, ran wild against Falconer.

JACK HUNT . . . really barrelled through the line with the ball.

GRANT DENN . . . speedy ballcarrier and good broken-field runner.

JACK WIGLEY . . . field general and leading scorer on the team, All-Star.

SUBSTITUTES . . . proved good material for the coming years.

COACH RUSHIN . . . has yet to taste defeat as head coach, kept the team in good shape and full of hustle.

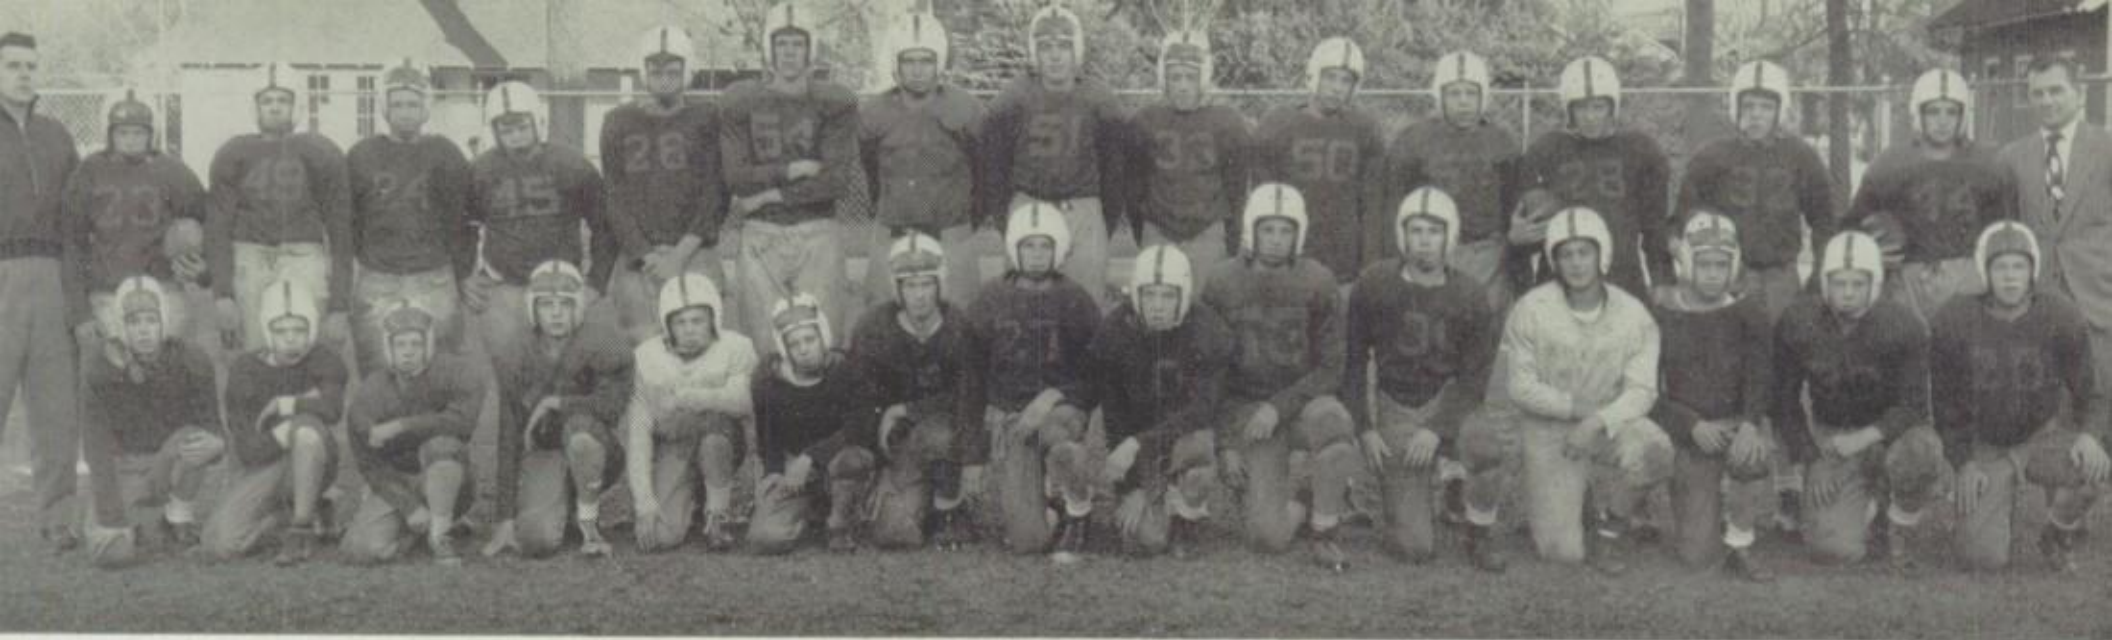

COACHES SHEVALIER and MUNSON . . . helped tremendously in coaching the line and deserve great credit.

NO wonder the Freshmen were such hustlers this season with four such attractive cheerleaders to encourage them to victory. What these girls lack in size they make up in pep. By the time this year's Freshmen make the varsity their cheerleaders will be as efficient as the team is invincible.

Future Timber Insures Continued Success

THE past year the Freshman Football squad, a combination of Celoron and Lakewood boys, proved to be in there fighting. Although they won no league contests they gave the opposition a rough time, resulting from the patient and skillful training of Mr. Windoft and Mr. Harp.

For the first time the squad used a T formation. The plays off the "T" were fast and deceptive, but the lack of experience hampered the players.

End positions were played by Jim Bailey, John Gruel, Gordy Robbins, and Richard Johnson. Tackles were Nels Carlson, Fred Carpenter, and Jerry Pomeroy. Wayne Anderson, John Farnsworth, Art Whitman and Jim McGrath were guards, while center was played by Peter Peterson, and Bob Barland.

Quarterbacks were Gary Johnson and Gordon VanEvery. There were four halfbacks, Bob Reeves, Howie Peters, Duane Peterson and Dennis Simmons. The fullback position was played by Larry Allen, Charles Freay, and Martin Johnson.

Our worst defeat was given to us by Falconer with a resulting score of 29-13, and our closest game occurred at Jefferson ending with a 13-7 victory for Jefferson.

Howie Peters was high man of the year with a total of four touchdowns. The most dramatic one, happened in a game with Warren when he went off tackle for thirty yards.

"Red" Robbins was the key man when it came to snaring passes, receiving a total of ten of the fourteen attempted.

Gary Johnson was noted for his sharp passing which helped us on the way to those four touchdowns.

on the court

THIS past year the fighting Trojan basketball team, under the excellent coaching of Mr. Munson, emerged from numerous battles the winner. These wins, though they did not take the Lakeshore League Conference title, brought the Trojans out of the depths of basketball defeat where they have been so often in the preceding years. The success of the Red and Blues can be based wholly on the co-operation, co-ordination, and spirit which they put forth this year.

From this year's varsity squad Mr. Munson will lose six lettermen—a decided loss for any one year. Those graduating from the squad are Jack Wigley, Jack McMaster, John Olsen, Anthony Barone, Gerald Clark, and Dick Allen. These boys will be replaced by boys of the Junior Varsity who have shown great promise this year, and hold an excellent record.

Cheerleaders always add that certain something to any sport and this year's team was no exception. Some were veterans, some led cheers for the first time but all gave a good account of themselves.

The costumes adopted by the girls this year were well named: "jumpers" but whether the name had anything to do with their ability or not is only conjecture!

Sparring Partners for the Varsity

THIS year's Junior Varsity basketball team was very successful, finishing with 11 wins out of a 15 game series. They revealed, under the patient coaching of Joe Rushin, great possibilities of making a team to be reckoned with come the 1952-53 season. The fine spirit of the Junior Varsity was unfaltering and because of this spirit and the courage they showed while playing second fiddle to the varsity, Coach Gene Munson can be assured of having a promising foundation on which to build his Varsity squad for the forthcoming basketball program.

The valuable training these boys have received this year added to past experience should spell results for Southwestern.

Show Skill of Their Own

BREATH TAKING moments while the ball hovers uncertainly above the hoop and the score hangs in the balance! Suddenly it's safe, the point flashes on the scoreboard, the crowd noises swell in approbation or disappointment. Then the cheerleaders take over: success or defeat may face the team but the girls are there with their morale-boosting ditties. Their smiles are always reassuring, their confidence contagious. Each one a seasoned veteran, the combination was unforgettable.

Junior Varsity was not the only group in training for future triumphs this year. Junior Varsity's own private cheerleaders were also on their way to the top. The five enthusiastic girls practiced the time honored cheers and learned some brand new ones. Their nimble footwork and enthusiastic cheering helped their team to strive for and attain a successful year.

Growing enthusiasm

THIS past year the freshman classes of Celoron and Lakewood High Schools made up a very good ball team.

With the help of Coach Windoft the team passed an undisputed berth in third place. Frank Traniello was the key man for he was high scorer in most all of the games. Traniello was not the only person responsible for the team's success, however. The co-operation and good sportsmanship of the others were needed to make his talent worthwhile. Gary Johnson, Wally Carlson, Gordon Robbins, Jim Bailey, Pete Peterson, Fred Carpenter, Howie Peters, Bob Reeves and Joe Patti were excellent team-mates.

During the season the team won eight games and were defeated four times. The first loss was to Falconer—a run away game with the score of 59-43. Other defeats came at the hands of Lincoln, Washington, and Jefferson.

The losses came particularly hard because we had had a taste of luck at the first part of the season, winning seven games before losing one.

Coach Harp and Coach Shevalier gave the team defense practice, using either the stars of the eighth grade team or the second team as the opposing players.

Although the freshmen did not finish first they had one of the best basketball teams in the district and are looking forward to future goals to conquer with enthusiasm and confidence.

For Coming Years

THE eighth grade basketball team played four games this year. Of this number they won one and lost three.

The win was chalked up in the Ashville-Southwestern game: a neat 37 to 30. In the Randolph game the score rolled up to 47 to 33 before the final whistle was blown. A game between Southwestern and Bemus Point had to be postponed because of illness. The Lincoln-Southwestern game ended with Lincoln victorious. Panama won 37-30.

Even though the scores were not in Southwestern's favor the experience gained by these boys, and the patient coaching of Mr. Shevalier, will pay dividends in future years.

Players who will undoubtedly be the stars of other years were Dick Vanham, Larry Allen, Ken Schneider, and Larry Cederquist.

Sectional Champions

"CHAMPIONS"! That title sped like wildfire on a cloudy overcast day early in April. A mere nine letter word, but what a world of meaning it held. Behind it were the hours of seemingly endless practice, the sweating, the running . . . all the inglorious sides of a sport which the spectators never see; and for the Coach, Mr. Shevalier . . . the countless nights he spent, tossing and turning . . . worrying. But most of all behind the word Champion was the story of the boys themselves . . . for it was they who trained as champions, played as champions . . . and that afternoon proved they WERE champions.

It would be difficult to name an individual star on this team, but you might mention Captain Dick "Red" Allen, the sparkplug, the chatter-box; Ray Warner and Wally Carlson, the "big boys" who came through in the clutch, the always-a-standout Jack Wigley, Jack-the-Giant McMaster . . . perhaps they did stand out, and if any one of them wasn't in there playing his heart out, he was on the sidelines cheering, pleading with the gang to come through. Yes, they had a team. Ask them. Ask Dick Wigley, Rog. MacTavish, Dick Gustafson, Milt. Faulkner, Rae Williams, and Len Ericzon . . . they'll tell you.

Then, directly behind that significant little word Champion was a 5½ hour gruelling competition, when that training, that worrying, that team work paid off. Face to face with defeat, the gallant Trojans came from behind to take the third and deciding set from Panama to win for themselves and their coach the glory and acclaim that go hand in hand with that phrase "Chautauqua County Volleyball Champions."

That the group went on to annex sectional honors for the second straight year (by virtue of twin 15-5 victories over Frontier Central centered about a losing 15-13 set) was anti-climatic. The real story was written that afternoon with Panama, when they played on heart and drive alone . . . and won! It is a season they can look back on with pride and well afford to say, "It will be quite a while before we see another year of volleyball like that."

Clinch the Trophy

The next week, the team traveled to Dunkirk for the County meet, and came in third. We scored first places in three events, Jack Carlson in the 880, Jack Wigley in the broad jump, and the relay team came in ahead of the rest of the field. The remainder of the scoring was by Naughton in the 100, Brown in the 220, Denn in the 440, Christy in the 880, and Phil Ellsworth in the mile.

On the University of Buffalo campus, the following week, the Trojan thinclads put on a show that would do the hearts of all loyal Southwestern fans good. In top notch competition, the Trojans, with their eight-man team, copped the Sectional trophy. On top of that they also won the relay trophy, with the relay team again coming through. The scoring was done by Naughton in the 100, Brown in the 220, Denn in the 440, Carlson in the 880, Ellsworth in the mile, Wigley in the broad jump, and the aforementioned relay team.

So ended another season under the capable tutelage of Coach Rushin. Let us hope that this year's team is as successful. We are very sorry to see such consistent point-winners as Jack Carlson, Tom Naughton, Bill Brown, Bill Christy, and Dick Patton graduate, but we are sure, win or lose, Southwestern will be in there fighting for every point.

Letter Lassies

THE Lakewood Girls' "S" Club is an active group made up of girls in grades nine through twelve who are active in inter-mural sports.

At a banquet held in June of 1951, the membership chose Donna Swearingen to act in the capacity of president, with Ann Burstrom vice president, Janice Offhaus secretary and Mary Ann Hendler treasurer.

With Miss McMillan as adviser, we made and sold programs for the high school football games. After each game we held a dance in the school auditorium. The proceeds from these activities went toward purchasing "S" Club jackets for graduating members.

Girls who take an active part in the school sports program as well as the club program are eligible for a sports letter. These letters are awarded on a point system for activity in both programs plus good sportsmanship and outstanding service.

"TOO many cooks spoil the soup." This ancient saying may have some truth but not in the "S" Club. With the record total of 30 members, it is anticipating continued success. Under the guidance of Coach Rushin we inaugurated this year by electing the following officers: President, Jack Wigley; Vice President, Len Ericzon; and Treasurer, Anthony Barone.

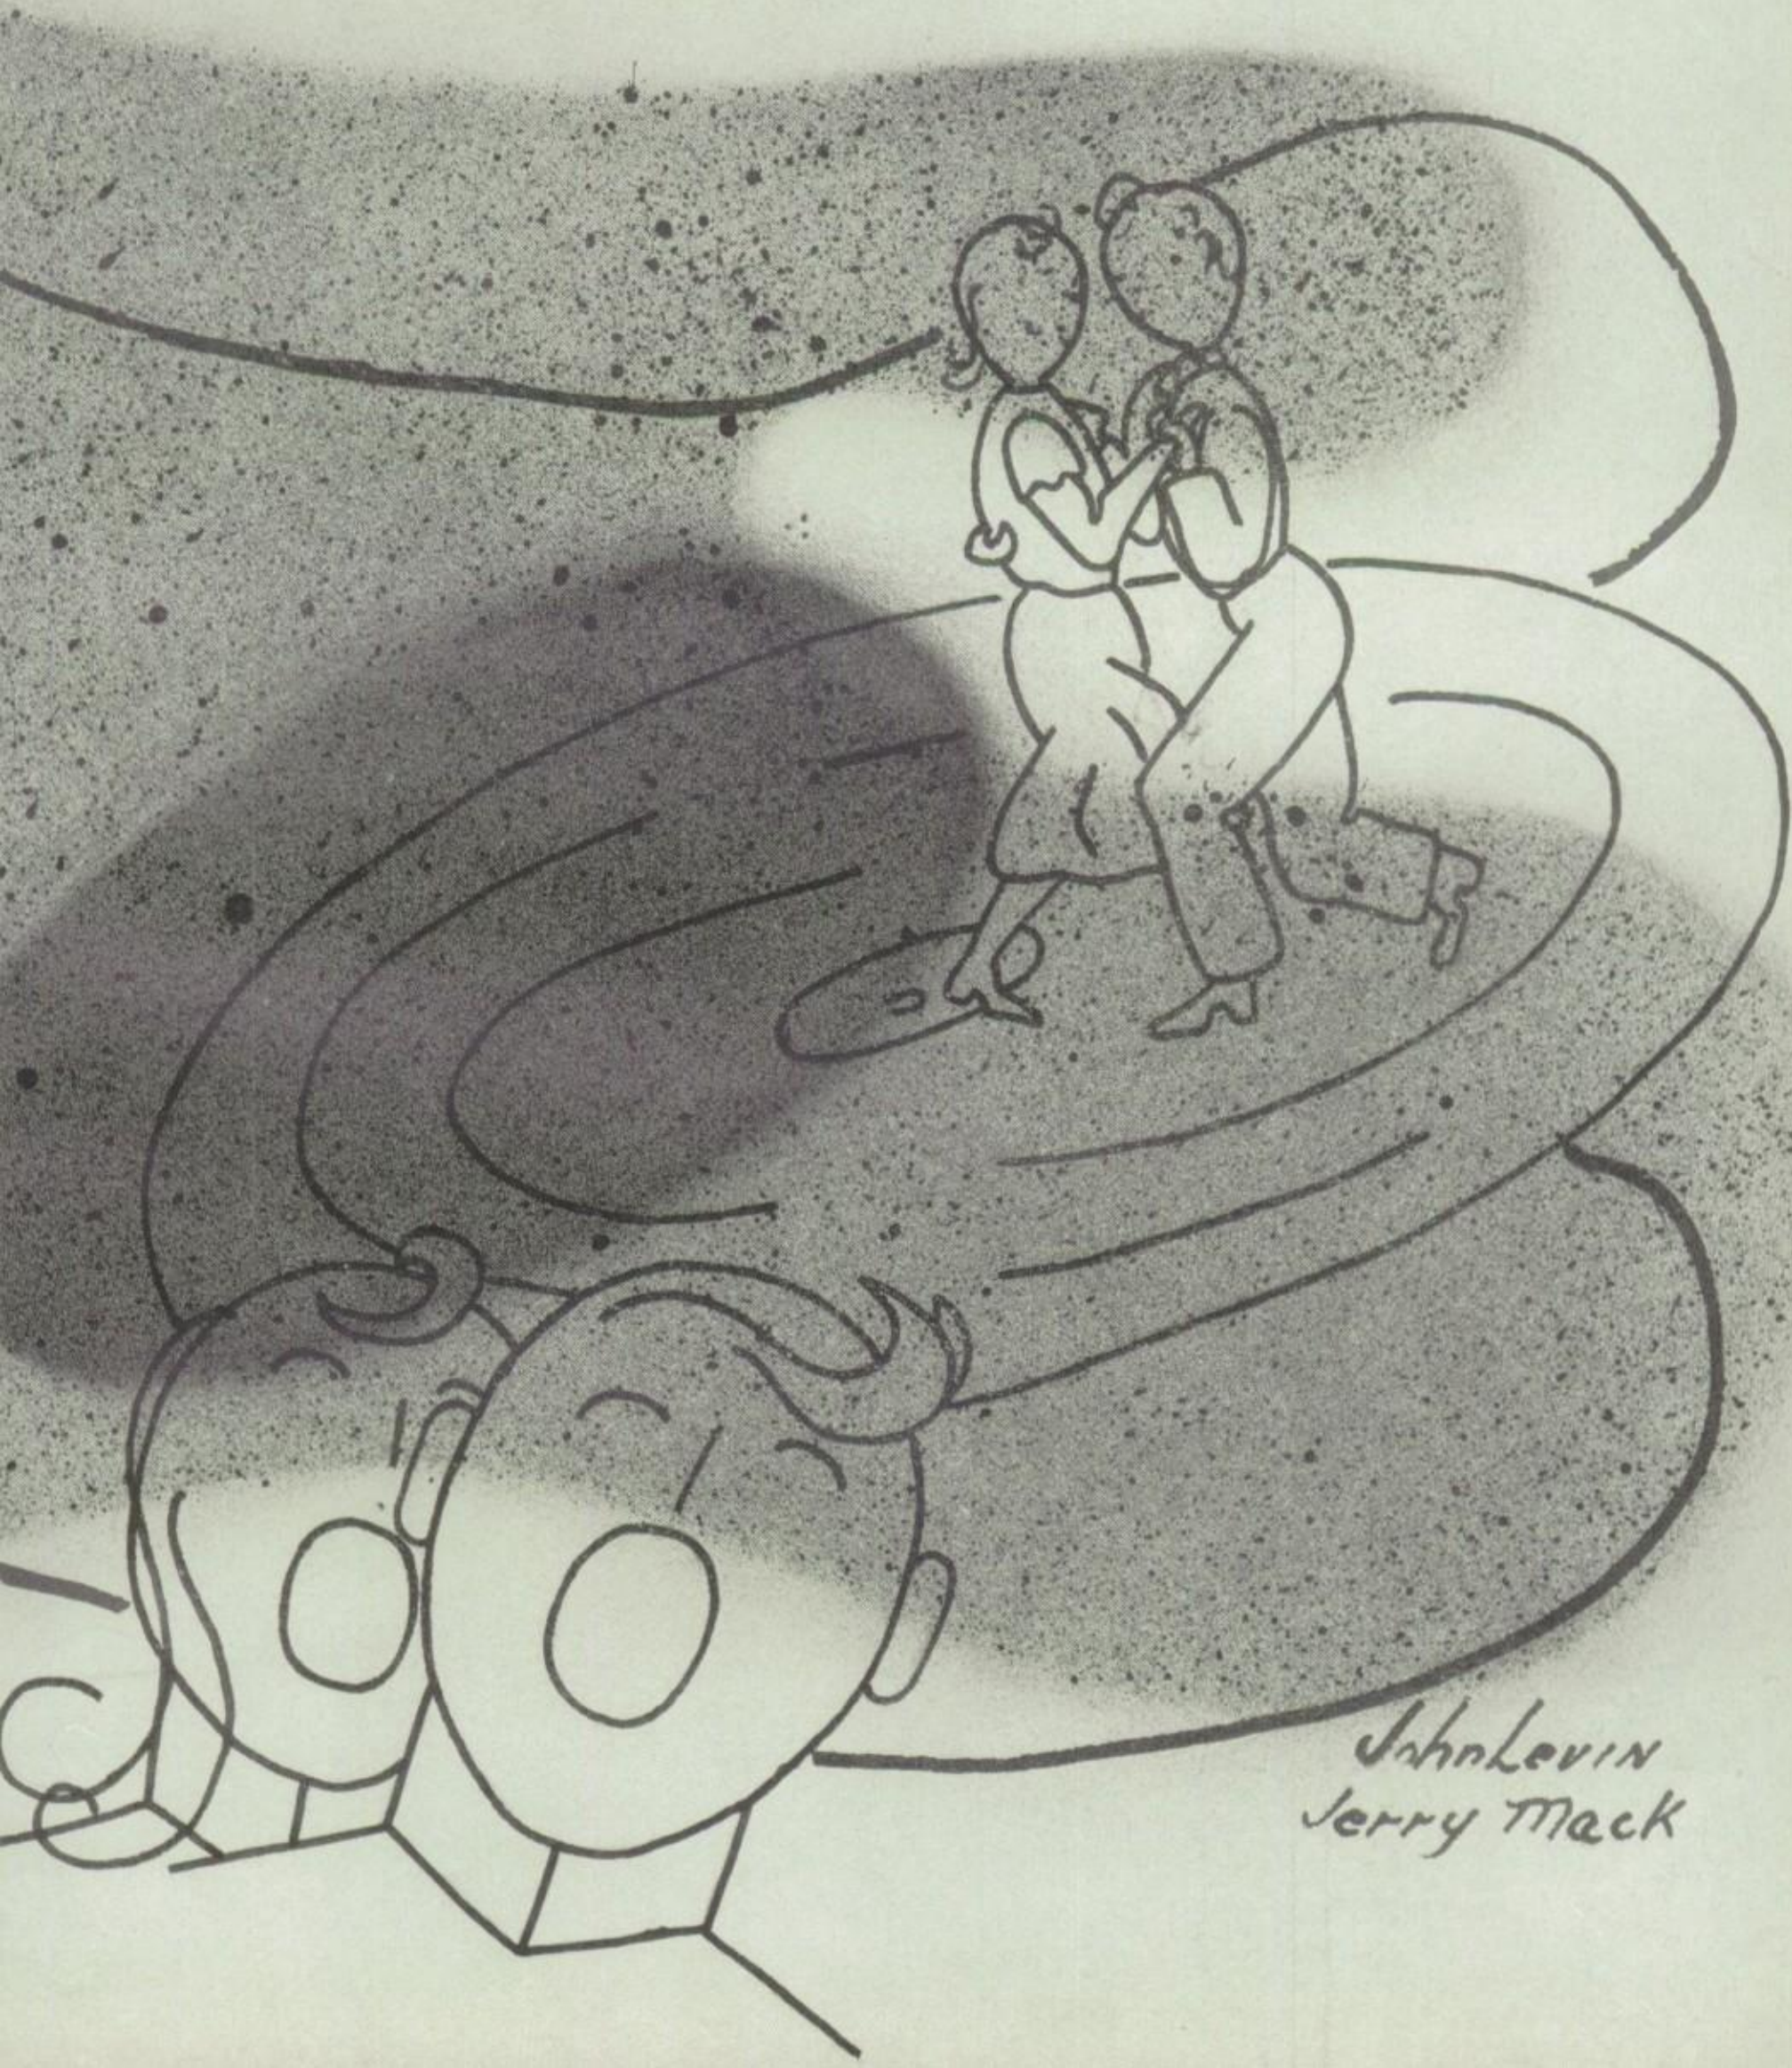

Our activities were varied, ranging from taking over the concession stands during both football and basketball seasons, to staging a combination Dance-Variety show in the Celoron Gym. This proved not only highly entertaining but also financially successful. Part of the profits realized went toward the purchase of jackets, while the remainder will form the financial start for next year's club. May it be even more prosperous.

The S Club is made up of boys who have earned at least one letter in one of the school's major sports. Some members hold more than one letter.

One of the largest memberships in recent years has helped the success of the club in every one of its undertakings.

Diligent Effort

Each year the object in the minds of the Centralian staff is to produce a better yearbook than any produced in previous years. It is one thing to pick up a finished yearbook, run hastily through its pages alternately admiring and criticizing its contents. It is quite another thing to wade through the mass of details surrounding copy, photographs, cover designs, division pages, ads and various other materials and come up finally with a commendable Centralian.

The staff likes to have each student in the junior-senior high school feel that he has a part in the production of the annual, so each class is asked to select a representative to work with the regular officers on his own material.

Mrs. Burk, who has been the yearbook adviser for a number of years has been noted for her untiring efforts on its behalf. In previous years she has been assisted by the senior class sponsor, Mrs. Hatch, but this year the work has been divided among a larger group of faculty advisers, who have worked with Mrs. Burk and the staff.

Bring Proud Results

In order to create more interest in advertising the Lakewood branch decided to do something new this year. A contest was held to determine which students could sell the most ads for the yearbook. In an assembly the winners were rewarded.

The busy staff was composed of Co-editors, Diane Christy and Carol Patton; business managers, Anthony Barone and Joyce Spence; art editors, John Levin and Roy Almgren; photography editors, Donna Swearingen and Dick Kahle; sports editor, Jack Wigley; subscription managers, Ann Burstrom, Diane Carlson, and Francis Freay; typists, Phyllis Olson, Eileen O'Brien and Betty Frank. Advertising in Celoron was handled by Philip Bloomquist and Kenneth Wilson.

Of the Pupil By the Pupil

THE sound of the gavel has died away and the Celoron Student Council has come to order.

Let us take roll call to see if all the homeroom representatives are present and accounted for: Seniors: Rae Williams and Roy Almgren are here. Juniors: Grace Peterson and Jack Bailey are present; as are Sophomores Joan Parker and Frank Mallare. When the Freshman name is called Dale Newark answers. Sally Gross and Donya Warner represent the Eighth and Seventh grades respectively.

Under new business the first thing which was done was to elect the officers, Rae Williams, president; Roy Almgren, vice-president; Grace Peterson, secretary; and Joann Parker, treasurer.

Mr. Irving Miller consented to act as mentor for this organization.

From the secretary's minutes we can recall the year's activities.

Two panel discussions were given publically. The first was for a school assembly and discussed the subject of "Juvenile Delinquency". The second panel was presented on Founders' Day before the P.T.A. The topic for discussion was appropriate to the type of meeting, "The Child and the Home."

The Student Council's big project for the year was a new system of hall monitoring to be used in the upper hall. This system has proved to be most effective in improving the human traffic condition which existed there.

As there is no further business to come before the meeting, we will adjourn until next September.

For the Pupil

THE beginning of the 1951-1952 school year found the Student Council, now a firmly entrenched tradition at Lakewood, avowed to the fulfillment of these principles: (1) to serve as mediator between the faculty and student body; (2) to assist in school government.

Officers were elected to assume the major responsibility for the gradual carrying out of these aims. Grant Denn was chosen president with Mary Ann Hendler as his assistant. Ruth Callison was selected as secretary-treasurer.

The first major accomplishment of this year's Council was the establishment of the Monitor System to relieve the traffic situation in the halls. This arrangement has proved very satisfactory to students and teachers alike, thus providing a much-needed solution to what was a somewhat distressing problem. The question of discipline brought about the second outstanding achievement of our Council; the formation of a Student Court. Under such a method pupils guilty of behavior infractions in the halls were brought before the Court, their cases heard, and judgment passed accordingly. This set-up has done much to increase our participation in school government. A third project now being considered would call for Council advertisement of all assemblies, and further discussion with the teachers may eventually lead to increased Council activity in said assemblies.

Thus, under the expert guidance of Mr. Robert Habich, the group has progressed through the years from a meaningless society to an esteemed, respected, organization.

Seated: A. Barone, J. Penhollow, M. A. Hendler, J. Paquin, C. Patton.

School's Highest Honor

THE National Honor Society strives to create an enthusiasm for scholarship, to stimulate a desire to render service, to promote leadership, and develop character in the students of American schools.

Membership in this society is the highest honor that can be bestowed on a high school pupil. Several new members were tapped this spring. These new members are: Mary Anne Hendler, Carol Patton, Gerald Clark, Harvey Logan, Jack Penhollow, and Richard Wigley.

Joan Paquin, Frances Freay, Jack Wigley, Anthony Barone, Alfred Parker, and Dennis Anderson were tapped previous to this year.

The Honor Society was organized in Celoron in 1945 and in Lakewood in 1947.

Because of the small numbers involved no formal meetings are held and no officers elected. Mrs. Hatch has sponsored the Celoron group since it was granted its charter and Miss Cook guides the Lakewood branch group.

Queen of May Reigns at Court

THE day dawned sunny and warm, and for the first time in several years, the traditional May Day festival of the Lakewood Branch was held out-of-doors!

King Winter, Tom Naughton, was escorted to the throne by the Master of Ceremonies, David Stark. Next came the Juniors, carrying floral arches, under which passed the Senior couples, arm in arm, the crown and footstool bearers, the little flower girls, and class presidents, who took their places on either side of the king.

The expectant crowd grew quiet as the maid of honor, Pat Carlson, followed by the lovely queen, Donna Northrop, passed slowly through the arches. The queen was assisted to the throne by King Winter. The maid of honor was escorted to the platform by the master of ceremonies.

Nancy Naylor, Senior Vice President, presented the crown to the King who placed it on the Queen's head. Anthony Barone, Junior president, presented the footstool; Dick Wigley, Sophomore president, the Queen's bouquet; and John Boardman, the maid of honor's bouquet.

Following the presentation of the gifts, the royal couple were entertained by a Maypole Dance and group dancing by the Juniors, grade children, and kindergarten. Several musical selections were presented by the grade school choir.

The procession then marched slowly back through the arches to complete another beautiful and impressive May Day festival, not soon to be forgotten.

Meet Arizona

THE second annual operetta to be presented by the combined chorus was presented April 3 and 4 in the Celoron school.

"Meet Arizona" was chosen as this year's offering because of its unusual setting, the Ride 'Em Hard Dude Ranch, and the colorful costumes of the cast and chorus as cowboys and Mexicans.

The lure of Western music must have proved strong in this locality for we found that other nearby schools had chosen to present the same operetta.

The cowboy members of the cast were played by Grant Denn, Stanley Weisbrod, Dick Wigley, Roger Lindquist, and Arlee Powell.

Julie Lawson, Alfred Parker, Mary Ann Hendler, and Carole Hinderer, were the principal "dudes" who went west to see what it was like to be wild and woolly.

Elsie Fuscus, Jerry Mack, Rosemary Ahl, Ronald Fredrickson, and Priscilla Erickson impersonated the colorful Mexicans who brought Fiesta to the ranch.

The whole production was capably directed by Mrs. Nelson and Miss Potter.

Accompanists were Ann Burstrom and Gladys Johnson.

Through Harmonious Voices

COMBINING the choruses of the two branches of Southwestern multiplied not only the membership but the talent available for concerts and other entertainments.

The 80-voice chorus, ably directed by Mrs. Nelson and Miss Potter, opened its musical year with the annual fall concert on November 6. November, too, saw outstanding soloists chosen to participate in All-State Chorus at Cassadaga. Also in November the Lakewood ensemble, in costume, lent atmosphere to the Senior play by singing Gay Nineties songs between acts. Mary Anne Hendler, Narita Gunton, Diane Carlson, Janet Burk, Grant Denn, Richard Wigley, Ronald Merwin, and Peter Rushworth made up the octet.

In Celoron an octet made up of Joan Paquin, Priscilla Erickson, Anne Lamberson, Carole Hinderer, Roy Almgren, Wallace Carlson, Arlee Powell, and Alfred Parker sang at various times throughout the year.

In December the traditional Christmas concert was given both at P.T.A. and as a school assembly program. In addition to the regular soloists Sally Parson and Priscilla Erickson had solo roles in Fred Waring's Song of Christmas, repeated this year by special request.

An innovation, so widely enjoyed as to cause requests to be made that it, too, become a tradition, was the singing of carols through the halls before school one morning at Celoron.

April found the chorus, for the second year, combining its talents through hard work and many rehearsals, to produce its delightful annual operetta, Meet Arizona.

By singing in the chorus, senior high school students may win awards similar to those given in sports. Points are given to officers of the organization, accompanists, soloists, participation in operettas, and ensemble work. A total of 125 merits are required to obtain the initial award, and a star may be added to it each year. A number of students in each branch received these awards again this year.

LONG hours of paintaking work reached a climax in May when the entire group attended the Fredonia Music Festival with gratifying results, after presenting the numbers in concert with the band May 6.

Much of the success of the year's work was due to the various officers. At Celoron Carole Henderer was president and Gladys Johnson her assistant. Joan Paquin acted as both secretary and treasurer. Julie Lawson, as robe custodian, kept her eye on the new garments which did so much to improve the appearance of the chorus, and Gladys Johnson was pianist. Lakewood's president was efficient Ann Burstrom who doubled as pianist. She was aided and abetted by Mary Anne Hendler. Diane Carlson was secretary, and Dick Wigley, treasurer. Narita Gunton and Grant Denn shared the robe checking, and Kathleen Danielson and Ronald Merwin had the exacting job of music librarian.

Grid Morale Builders,

THE Southwestern Central Band has just completed what they consider to be an above-average year. In spite of the fact that it has been difficult to have many combined rehearsals, exceptional improvement has been noticed in the band's performance.

While three concerts were the first aim for the year, only two have been given by the band alone, the third being shared with the combined chorus.

During these concerts the versatility of the band has been very apparent, especially in the field of the light classics and popular music. Some of the most appreciated selections were excerpts from Show Boat and South Pacific.

An individual music lesson each week under the excellent tutorage of Mr. Turner, helped every member attain more musical knowledge and improved technique.

First row: P. Bailey, M. Peterson, J. Lawson, 7. Lamberson, S. Farnsworth, C. Jones, C. Hendler, G. Johnson.

Second row: A. Lamberson, J. Anderson, D. Myregaard, P. Evinczik, H. Swanson, J. Kane, L. Seager, A. Parker, S. Warner, D. McDonnell, R. Almgren.

Third row: C. McKay, J. Ford, D. Rood, V. Johnson, R. Schneider, B. Anderson, R. Linquist, R. Starr, W. Hern, P. Yates, K. Schneider, C. LaMarca, J. Penhollow, R. Merwin.

Concert Artists

AT THE annual All-State Concert held at Cassadaga, Elaine Lamberson, Priscilla Bailey, Pauline Evinczik and Roy Almgren represented Southwestern's woodwind section.

Jack Penhollow, Ronald Merwin, and Alfred Parker "doubled in brass" while Dennis Travers did the honors in the percussion section.

Each branch school group of the band elected its own officers. Lakewood found Jack Penhollow a competent president, ably supported by Ronald Merwin as vice president and Pauline Evinczik as combination secretary-treasurer.

At Celoron Arlee Powell and Alfred Parker shared the executive honor with Arlee holding his own so well that Alfred had to remain the typical vice-president. Gladys Johnson held the dual role of secretary-treasurer.

On Friday afternoons, when Mr. Turner found it necessary to be at Lakewood, Roy Almgren took over as maestro of the Celoron group during assembly.

The band members in their blue uniforms have added that certain something to various events from football games to an indoor circus throughout the year.

While all facets of the whole did not sparkle at every assembly program, where each branch group played for its own school, the full color and brilliance of a well-balanced musical organization was on display at concerts and at various of the Commencement Week activities.

Budding Journalists

THIS year, under the careful guidance of Mrs. Chase, the commercial teacher, a new newspaper was founded. The name of this new edition is the Crystalet, an appropriate name for the Junior edition of the high school's Crystal.

The Crystalet carried news from grades one through five, jokes, pictures to color and cut out. One of the most popular sections was the one devoted to all students in those grades who had a birthday in the same month.

Although only one year has been completed by the staff, they feel that the work and research was well-rewarded by the interest and happiness the paper has brought these youngsters.

The members of the staff were: Co-editors, Norma Adams and Carol Patton. Elsie Fuscus had charge of feature stories. Joyce Anderson and Karen Edgren were given the responsibility of selling and caring for miscellaneous details. Janice McIntyre took on the job of supervising the art work, Betty Frank collected the birthday lists. Grade news was compiled by Joan Johnson and Patty Babyak. The paper was typed and duplicated by Patsy Hyde, Betty Bernhard and Elizabeth Siggins.

Seated: E. Fuscus.

At Machine: C. Patton.

Standing: E. Siggins, B. Bernhard, P. Babyak, J. McIntyre, K. Edgren, J. Anderson, B. Frank, J. Johnson, P. Hyde, N. Adams, Mrs. F. Chase.

Seated: E. Fuscus, J. Spence, F. Freay.

Standing: B. Starkweather, B. Frank, R. Holcomb, A. Hallin, Mrs. F. Chase, D. Strom, R. M. Ahl, R. Jensen, N. Johns, S. Beck, R. Allen, P. Bloomquist, J. Paquin, P. Erickson.

Gather the News

SOMEONE has said that a good reporter must have three prerequisites: "(1) a nose of news, (2) an ear for rumors, and (3) another ear to hold a pencil."

That this year's staff which produces the Crystal lacked none of these essentials goes without saying, for they were both adept at sniffing out news and detecting the faintest suggestion of a rumor.

Editor-in-chief Ruth Ann Jensen had as her assistant Carol Patton. Business Manager was Joan Paquin, with reporters Ann Hallin, Betty Starkweather, and Shirlee Beck.

Shirlee Beck acted as Exchange Editor. Rose Mary Ahl was the high school news editor and Roberta Holcomb served the grades in the same capacity.

Phillip Bloomquist and Joyce Spence held the office of Feature Editors.

In the Art department Joan Paquin was editor. Circulation managers were Frances Freay and Priscilla Erickson. Dick Allen reported on Sports.

Joyce Spence and Betty Frank were the typists and the paper was finally ready for the "press"—the trusty mimeograph in the Commerce department, handled by Ruth Ann Jense, Rose Mary Ahl, Karen Edgren, and Joyce Anderson.

Spread the News

THIS year the English IV Class, under the direction of Mr. Ruane, undertook the publishing of the Lakewood school newspaper, "The Troy Tribune." After spending the first quarter English periods in studying journalism, the students felt that they were well briefed in techniques of newspaper work.

Each class reporter took care of all the news for his own class, but the following staff worked long, diligent hours to produce a paper of which they could be justly proud.

Editor Anthony Barone was assisted by Grade Editor, Mary Jean Penhollow; Art Editor, John Levin; Feature Editor, Mary Ann Hendler and the following reporters: Boys' Sports, Grant Denn, Larry Sales, Pete Swanson; Girls' Sports, Diane Christy; Gossip, Donna Swearingen and Diane Carlson. Typing was the responsibility of Narita Gunton, Eileen O'Brien, Phyllis Olson, Pat Thompson and Ann Burstrom. Paul Truver handled the mimeographing.

Many new features found their way into this year's edition. Among these were pictorial views of "This Week's Hint" and "Meet the Teachers." The staff did its best to put into print the best features to be found and the news which would be pleasing to the student body.

Stop, Look, Listen

The primary aims of the patrol are:

To protect children from automobile accidents while they are on their way to and from school.

To help children to develop sound habits in use of streets.

To foster qualities of leadership and good citizenship in patrol members.

Members of School Patrols are selected for their aptitude, dependability, interest in their task, popularity with their fellow students, and scholastic standing. Distinguished by white Sam Brown belts and badges, they STAND ON THE CURB at intersections near their school, before and after classes, to instruct, direct and guide the members of the student body in crossing the streets. INSTRUCTED NOT TO ATTEMPT TO DIRECT VEHICULAR TRAFFIC, these boys and girls keep children on the sidewalk until there is a sufficient lull in vehicular traffic so that they can cross safely.

Shutterbugs

CELORON'S Camera Club was formed for the purpose of providing basic training, skill and a worthwhile hobby in photography.

Dale Newark, sparkplug of last year's club is again president. Dick Plank is ready to take over in Dale's absence. Wendy Williams keeps the minutes, and Theil Ecklund keeps the funds straight. Bennie Stevens is committee chairman.

During the year the twenty-three camera fans have learned many interesting things about the art of taking good pictures, developing, printing and enlarging them. They have also spent considerable time learning the techniques of operating and caring for the various projectors used in the school.

Much appreciation is due to Mr. Irving Miller for untiring effort and guidance during the club's current venture into photography.

Many of the snapshots used in this year's Centralian are from the camera of the club president, Dale Newark, who is such a camera fiend that one wonders if he lives on a special diet of negatives and spent flash bulbs.

Light Music

THE one activity which has been really and truly "eighth grade" this year is its dance club. With the large number of eighth graders who have taken dancing lessons of one type or another since early grade school days, this interest in dancing is not at all surprising.

The success of the year's work was assured when the club selected James Bailey as president, Sheryn Hansen as vice president, Sharyn Hulings as secretary, and James Peters as treasurer.

"MR. PRESIDENT" Richard Allen called them together when there was business to be transacted, but most of the Senior Dance Club's well-spent Wednesday afternoons were spent as they should be — in dancing.

The sponsors, Mrs. Rhodes and Miss Tack, and the Secretary-Treasurer, Carol Patton, having held the same positions the previous year, helped to make this year an especially smooth one for the dancing enthusiasts.

Milton Faulkner acted as vice-president when the occasion demanded.

Dancing Feet

THIS year marked the third anniversary of the Dance Club in the Lakewood branch school. Under the capable supervision of Miss McMillan both square and round dancing were enjoyed.

The members have found that a dance club is the ideal place to learn the poise necessary to enjoy social events both in and out of school. It is also a fine place to learn to know the other students of the various classes better.

The success of such a club, of course, is always due, in large measure to the officers the members select. This year's activities were, therefore, largely the result of the selection of Diane Carlson as president with Bill Moran as her stand-in. John Levin served as secretary and Diane Christy was a capable treasurer.

Dance Club is fast becoming one of the activities to which underclassmen look wistfully forward. Those who are enjoying it for the last time this year hope future years will be as enjoyable.

Demon in the Dark

THE Celoron branch senior dramatic club, the Masqueraders, has enjoyed a flourishing year under the direction of Mrs. Watson and the presidency of Richard Allen.

The present organization was started in 1945 when Mrs. Watson first came to this school. The idea of a drama club was introduced early that year, and the students showed their appreciation by participating actively in its formation.

"Masqueraders" was a title inherited from a former dramatic group which was organized here in the fall of 1940 but had become inactive with the loss of its faculty adviser two years later.

The first public performance of the new dramatic club was the entertaining mystery, "Demon in the Dark."

Subsequent plays have been given each year until the spring play of the Masqueraders is an established custom.

This year, through popular demand, "Demon in the Dark" was repeated. All members of the club took part, either on stage or in the crew, without which the play could not have been produced.

Sixty-two members of the Masqueraders have progressed to be members of the local National Thespian Troupe 866 over a period of seven years.

If the enthusiasm which greeted the revival of "Demon" is any indication of future success, the Masqueraders are here to stay.

Stage-struck Teens

STRIVING for perfection in the art of acting, makeup, and allied arts, the Teen-Age Talent Club acknowledges its fourth year to be an educational and enjoyable one as the "in-between" dramatic group at Celoron.

Marlene Paquin, prexy of the club, kept the business meetings short and sweet in her most efficient manner and had such good attendance that only once did vice-president, Carolyn Peterson, get a chance to take over. Jim Miller kept the attendance and minutes in his quiet, careful way, and Madelyn Stranigan collected the quarters due the treasury.

After several weeks of practice on pantomime, original skits and short one-act plays directed by the sponsor, Miss Lopus, the club settled down to serious fund-raising projects.

The successful and frolicsome Farmers' Formal was held on March 19. This already traditional event, which lacks just a year of being as old as the club, was well attended; Suzanne Bugbee and Duncan Carlson were crowned as queen and king by officers of the club and seated majestically upon four-footed representatives of the barnyard set.

Every member of the club had a part in one of the two plays which were prepared for assembly. A group of the girls presented "The Ghost of a Freshman," and the entire club joined forces to do a radio adaptation of an historical drama.

Marlene Paquin was loaned to the Masqueraders for the exacting part of Mary in "Demon in the Dark," and did such a fine piece of work that all the Teen-Agers were proud of her. This is the second year one of our members has been selected to take part in the senior club's three-act play.

Wildcat Willie Walks Again

CELORON branch of S. W. C. S. boasts three live-wire dramatic clubs, with the Junior High Dramatic Club as the first rung in the young dramatist's ladder to stardom.

The Dramatic Club of "52" was one of the most outstanding in this club's six-year history. Nearly 50 seventh and eighth graders were members of this active club.

The people who, under the guidance of Mrs. Deuink, helped make it so were the officers: President, Sally Gross; Vice President, Kenneth Schneider; Secretary, Ruth Ostrom, and Treasurer, Larry Allen.

As its main project of the year the club sold Christmas cards and wrappings which netted them a very satisfactory profit. With part of this money the club purchased twelve books for the special library which has been started in Mrs. Deuink's room.

Two plays, "Wildcat Willie and the Bearded Lady" and "Wildcat Willie Gets Brain Fever" were worked on during the year for presentation in assembly.

The club also enjoyed two parties.

All those who will still be eligible for membership in this club next year are looking forward to another enjoyable experience in dramatics.

THIS year six new members were inducted into National Thespian Society No. 866. They were Shirlee Beck, Dick Harrison, Anna Lilja, Bonnie McCann, Grace Peterson, and Rae Williams.

The National Thespian Society is an honorary club in our school because so few members are left after graduation each year. Last year's members who are still active are Betty Frank, Richard Allen, and Richard Kahle.

Several years ago Troop 866 was granted a charter in the Celoron branch of Southwestern Central School. Inasmuch as our membership has been so small, we have been an inactive honorary group whose dramatic activity is confined to the Masqueraders Club.
